[By The Associated Press.]

Washington, July 22.—Chairman Hooper of the railroad labor board presented to President Harding in a four hour conference today details of the rail strike situation, reporting on the controversy between the union workers and the executives from the inception to the present time.

HOOPER SILENT.

Leaving the White House after the conference, the labor board chairman told newspapermen that "naturally I do not feel at liberty to discuss detail of the conference," and declined to state whether the president had in mind any future conferences or give any inkling as to what the administration program might be. He did say, however, that he was returning to Chicago, leaving here at 6 o'clock this evening.

SEES SENATORS.

The president after Mr. Hooper left the White House, went into conference with Senators Underwood of Alabama and Pomerene of Ohio, Democratic members of the senate interstate commerce committee.

Earlier in the day and during the conference with Chairman Hooper, Senators Cummins of Iowa; Watson of Indiana and Kellogg of Minnesota, Republican members of the same committee who conferred here last Thursday night with leading railway executives of the east, had been called to the White House.

GOMPERS' PLEA.

A new note in the demand of the strikers was made evident by the statement of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, inviting the government to urge striking coal miners and shopmen and their respective employers to begin direct negotiations coupled with the exaction of representatives of "Big Four" brotherhoods in urging congress to facilitate a return to the direct parley system of settling disputes.

From New Orleans came reports of verbal attacks on the railroad labor board by union leaders.

CANCEL TRAINS.

Meanwhile eight railroads issued cancellation orders for branch line trains, swelling the number of annulments to well over three hundred. State troops continued on guard in eight states while additional guards were placed on duty in various cities.

The most notable instance was in Fremont, Nebr., where more than a hundred of the city's business and professional men were deputized as peace officers, and as the first official act escorted back into town eleven non-union employes of the Chicago and Northwestern railway who were said to have been driven out of town by striking shopmen.

LIMITED LEGAL ACTION.

Court action was limited to issuance of injunctions to the Missouri Pacific and St. Louis-San Francisco railroads at Kansas City, filing of petitions for injunctions at Atlanta by the Seaboard Air Line and Western and Atlantic railroads and filing of a suit by six labor leaders at Kansas City, Kas., questioning the right of the Kansas court of industrial relations to assume jurisdiction over the shopmen's strike. The plaintiffs in the suit claim that the strike is interstate in character and not subject to state law.

No Walkout Before Tuesday Assured.

Chicago, July 22—No street car strike will be called before Tuesday.

Definite assurance of this came last night following the arrival in Chicago of William D. Mahon, international president of the car men's union.

Despite an illness which had kept him confined to his compartment throughout the trip from Boston, and which, it was feared, would necessitate a postponement of his activities here, Mr. Mahon plunged into a conference with local union officials at the newly established headquarters in the Briggs house immediately after his arrival.

Three undesirables were shipped out Friday night and two more were sent back to Chicago Saturday morning. Special Agent Diveney stated that the work of the men was not up to standard.

The shopmen have now been out for twenty-two days and all indications are for a prolonged strike. Elaborate preparations are being made by the Illinois Central here for the accommodation of several hundred men. A new building for sleeping quarters is planned. An eight-foot close board fence will be placed about the shop grounds with but one entrance to the shops.

One portion of this fence has been erected on the west side of the yards. The only way to the roundhouse is now by the entrance at the coal chute, where guards and identification men of the Illinois Central have been stationed. Few visitors are being admitted to the yards or soldiers' quarters as rigid rules are being enforced.

Arctic Aviator Lands In Herd of Caribou

[By the Associated Press]

Dawson, Y. T., July 22.—Clarence O. Prest, the Clinton, Ia., aviator, while attempting a flight across Yukon Territory and Alaska flew with his moving picture camera above a great herd of caribou and was forced to land in their midst.

The herd is part of the great body of caribou which annually trecks across the region near Dawsson and Eagle. Prest had flown by around about way from San Bernadino, Calif., to the far north.

RELATES STORY.

His own story of his experience is told in a despatch from Eagle to the Dawson Daily News:

"Thirty minutes out of Eagle my engine bucked," he said. "I looked for a landing place and picked what looked like a level spot. It was Nigger Head flat at the head of Deer Creek, eight miles south of Seventy-Mile river. I fixed the engine and noticed a couple of caribou. I set up my movie camera so as to get them.

MIDST OF HERD.

More of them were coming so I began to see about taking off. Turning, I noticed five or six hundred caribou all around the airship and camera and rushed back expecting to find the camera ruined, but no damage was done. I got ready to take off, butter a searching party hove in sight."

the ship went on her nose in the soft going and broke the propeller.

"I had been debating about killing one of the caribou, but the debate ended when the propeller broke, so I killed one with my pistol and butchered him with a pocket knife.

WIND WRECKS MACHINE.

I was overhauling the motor when a puff of wind finished the job by turning the ship over on her back and breaking the radiator.

"So I deserted the ship, stripped off the instruments and magneto and started to pack them down to the river. I got down with one load and saw I was not going to make it with the grub I had, so I cached everything and went back to the ship and slept in its tail that (Sunday) night.

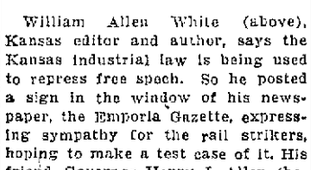

"I had left my compass in a cache at the mouth of the Barney Creek, so I started without it. I was further out than I thought. I did not pick up the trail and made a lot of unnecessary circles, climbing mountains for observation. It was raining steadily, but I had equipped myself with a small can of gasoline for starting fires.

"My shoes and feet were giving out and I was afraid to lie down to sleep. Finally on Wednesday I struck the trail at Nimrod Bar and shortly afterward met a party hove in sight."

KANSAS ROW PRINCIPALS

William Allen White (above), Kansas editor and author, says the Kansas industrial law is being used to repress free speech. Allen (below), immediately ordered White's arrest. Both say the proceeding will not interfere with their friendship for each other.

Poultry Culling Season Here For Many Flocks

Hens on Laying Vacation Should Be Sold at Once to Relieve Expense.

BY E. H. WALWORTH,
Macon County Farm Adviser.

This is the season of the year when hens in the average farm flock frequently begin to drop off in their production This may be due to various causes. The same attention is usually not given to feeding of poultry in the summer as in the winter. They are generally left to pick up their own feed and it may be possible they do not get well-balanced rations on that account.

Then again, the summer is a natural period for broodiness and when hens are not given constant attention they waste a good deal of time with out accomplishing anything. The third reason, and one that concerns every poultry raiser, is that hens vary in their ability to produce, even if given the right conditions for economical production.

CULLING SEASON HERE.

The season for culling out the flock in order to save those hens that will respond to good feeding and good housing is from the first of August to about the first of October. Culling of farm poultry is coming to be a very common practice among the people who make an appreciable part of their income from chickens

Suggestions on poultry culling appear from time to time, but the Extension Department of the University of Illinois has recently sent out a brief article which carries the essentials of culling farm poultry. It runs as follows:

RECOMMENDATIONS

"Hens that don't lay are not worth keeping on the farm. At the same time every good hen is probably entitled to a reasonable vacation or rest period once a year. The trouble is that many hens want their vacation to begin about the fourth of July and not end until after New Year's. This may be all right for the hen, but it is not so pleasant for the owner who has to furnish feed and labor.

"Of course, some hens are so poorly fed that they are doing well to lay any eggs at all Such hens will respond more quickly to improved feeding than to wholesale flock culling.

SHIP THEM OUT

"If however, it is assumed that the hens are being well fed, it is usually well to begin culling as soon as there are enough 'vacationers' to fill a shipping crate The mens that stop laying early are likely to be the poorest hens in the flock and selling them means fewer hens to feed and just as many eggs as before

"There is nothing to be gained by waiting until the middle of September to cull the flock when some of the hens stop laying in July Get the lazy ones out as soon as possible so as to give the others that much better chance It is not necessary to catch and handle the whole flock to make this first culling

SOME SHOULD BE LATER

"Continue this plan of culling at intervals until the flock has been reduced to the number that is desired to carry through the winter

"As a general rule the best fed flocks should be culled later than an average flock. Flocks that get little but whole corn and oats should be culled earlier than those which get also a dry mash containing some animal protein This is because well-fed hens lay later in the summer and fall than do the poorly fed hens. Your county agent can furnish information as to the rations which are giving good results in your county, or the university will supply feeding formulas on request."

SOMETHING NEW UNDER THE SUN

Bath Tub for Hogs Is the Latest.

Galena, Ill., July 22.—Now comes the bath tub for hogs. It is advocated by the farm bureau of Jo Daviess county. The bureau says a bath tub for hogs is just as necessary as a similar modern improvement for human beings. The hog must be kept sanitary, and the only way to do it is to build him a tub and let him wash.

Of course, it will not be the white porcelain, immaculately clean article of furniture to be found in modern dwelling houses, but it will be a long step in advance for taking care of hogs, the Jo Daviess bureau thinks

TROUBLE PROMPTS TUB.

The trouble with necrobacillosis in hogs, otherwise known as sniffles, bull nose, canker, sore mouth and skin disease, has prompted the farmers of Jo Daviess county to think of the bath for their porkers.

"It has been found," says the bureau publication, "that a bath tub made of planks, eight feet long, four feet wide, and one foot deep is a good size. Place it in the shade, fill it half full of water, add one pint of a coal tar dip as a disinfectant and a tablespoon of crude oil on top. This bath can be cleaned out and renewed frequently.

"A sanitary bath has been found to prevent these hog troubles from progressing from one stage to another in their life history."

SUCCEEDS DAVENPORT.

Prof. Mumford is to succeed Dean Eugene Davenport as dean of the college of agricuture. He is one of the best informed men in Illinois on marketing conditions.

The program includes, besides many other addresses and ten minute talks, a poultry culling demonstration and field trips through the various farm departments of the university. The meetings will be held in Morrow hall.

THE TRAGEDY OF SHORT PASTURE

W. J. Fraser, professor of dairying at the University of Illinois, says:

"Since about sixty per cent of the feed consumed by the average cow in Illinois goes to maintain the animal's body, only forty per cent of all the feed consumed is available for milk production. The animal's body must first be maintained Hence, if the feed is reduced 20 per cent, the amount of the ration available for milk production is reduced 50 per cent,

From these striking facts we see the tremendous loss that comes from the reduction of the dairy cow's ration because of short pastures This reduction for two months will wipe out the profit of the whole year with the average dairy cow.

What is said in regard to dairy cows applies with equal force to young and growing stock. An animal can make gains only from the feed consumed above maintenance."

CULTIVATION OF SOY BEANS NEEDED

J. W. Watson, in Piatt Co. Farm Bureau News: Examining many soy bean fields recently has suggested this one word of advice—give the beans more cultivation. In many fields, stands are poor and new plants are just coming through the ground. Such a field should be rolled with a corrugated roller Most other fields will be directly benefited by using the weeder or rotary hoe.

Few farmers would lay by a field of corn with only one plowing. The general rule is four or five. Soy beans will be benefitted as much by cultivation as corn

FARM NOTES.

Piatt Co Farm Bureau Notes: It is reported that Steve Varner of Willow Branch township has 60 acres of wheat that averaged 25 bushels per acre.

Cultivation of the soy bean, of which more than 1000 varieties have been developed in China to such an extent that it now represents the principal agricultural industry of that country.

Corn exports for the first five months of 1922 were double those of the corresponding period of 1921.

Save wheat at threshing If your wheat is good, save it for seed. The mistake of buying any old thing at drilling time can be corrected right now.

Many people incline to the view that this is the year to store grain. Who knows? At any rate if times for the farmer are going to become better, the price of grain must go higher.

Three-fourths of the grain raised in Piatt County is going to the elevator at threshing time regardless of prices. Whatever is the cause—finance of marketing—stands condemned before the test of efficiency, and prosperity.

PEACH CROP FINE IN JASPER COUNTY

Is Indication of Crop Throughout U. S.

Newton, July 22—The present year promises a good peach crop for the United States—75 to 80 per cent average condition at this time and 90 to 100 per cent in Jasper county. Prices are starting off good and present indications are that Southern Illinois growers may be able to contract their best stock around $3.00 per bu. f. o. b. and possibly better than that Some sales have been made at $2 50 per bu. in Wayne county.

THE ACREAGE.

The total peach orchard acreage in the Newton territory in a radius of five miles is about 300 acres, trees, one to five years old, Elberta and Hale varieties. Of this acreage H. O. Smith has 125 acres, half Elberta and half Hale.

One of the best orchards, 45 acres north of Newton, has a very light crop, owing to hail the latter part of April. A conservative estimate of his crop this year is placed at 3500 bushels

The fruit promises to be of extra fine quality, Mr. Smith is also Newton's largest holder of apple orchards.

Paul Kinsel has about 1200 four and five year old Elberta trees just north of the city that are carrying a fine crop His estimates are low at two to three thousand bushels.

WHAT CAN BE DONE

W. H. Pippin, Ex-Sheriff and Ex-United States Deputy Marshall has a young peach orchard of about 500 trees three and four years old in the north city limits which is a good illustration of what can be done with fruit on a small plantation His crop consisting principally of Elberta and Hale is estimated at five-hundred bushels. Other peach orchardists are Sims Bros, W. H. Houser, Geo. Houser, John Kasserman Roy Bevis, B T. Adkins and others whose names we may have overlooked.

The West Liberty peach orchard acreage is estimated at 850 acres, L. C. Day alone having about 90 acres. Tom Mercer 30 acres and a number of other growers smaller acreages. Estimates on L O Day's crop is 20,000 bushels and up.

Picking will start about Aug. 20, and continue two or three weeks

PIATT CALF SHOW EARLY IN OCTOBER

Monticello, July 22—Members of the Piatt County Shorthorn Breeders' Association met recently and made plans for their annual Calf Club show and county sale in cooperation with the Monticello Community Club at the Monticello Fair Grounds the first week of October. There are fourteen members in the Calf Club this year. The boys' and girls' cows and calves are to be first shown, then sold at public auction. The breeders of the county will add enough pure bred animals to make up a sale of some 40 to 45 head.

It is anticipated that the county Pig and Poultry Clubs will hold their annual show during the same week, and the breeders are asking that the Farm Bureau picnic be arranged for one of the days that the club exhibits are shown.

It is hoped that some livestock of all breeds will be exhibited. As the Club shows develop and the breeders become interested, a splendid opportunity will be presented to Piatt County farmers to hold an annual livestock show.

The Committee in charge of the plans includes M. H. Pilchard, Mansfield: Geo. E. Dobson, Cerro Gordo; and C. J. Gross, Atwood.

EFFINGHAM H. S. IN DIRT FARMING

Soil Treatment and Crop Rotation Is to Be Worked Out.

Effingham, July 22—Last May the high school board rented a five acre tract of ground from Joe Jansen, north of Effingham This ground has been leased for a period of five years and will be operated by the high school agriculture department. The purpose of this project will be to demonstrate the use of lime and legumes for soil improvement. With the cooperation of the County Farm Bureau and the State University the following soil treatment and crop rotation has been worked out.

FIVE PLOTS.

The field has been divided into five plots running north and south. On plot No. 1 no treatment is used and is to be used as check plot On plot No. 2 limestone was applied at the rate of 5 tons to the acre On No 3 limestone same as No 2 with Sweet Clover plowed under. No 4 limestone and raw rock phosphate are applied with Sweet Clover plowed under No 5 limestone and acid phosphate are applied with Sweet Clover plowed under

From this soil treatment it will be able to show the benefit of limestone on plot No 2 compared with no treatment in plot No 1, also the value of turning under a crop of Sweet Clover in No. 3 and also the use of rock phosphate to improve crop yields

Up to date only two acres have been treated however the balance of the treatment will be applied this fall.

THE ROTATION.

The rotation approved for this experiment consists of a four year rotation, requiring four years to rotate each crop over every part of the field It consists of 1st year corn with soy-bean, 2nd year oats seeded with sweet clover; 3rd year the sweet clover will be plowed under in time to sow wheat; 4th year wheat seeded with sweet clover this crop of sweet clover to be plowed under the following spring in time to plant corn thus completing the rotation The crops run east and west across each treatment and will be 1½ acres, thus having all crops growing every year.

THE CROPS

Due to the late spring and just getting this project started, they are growing the following crops: two acres of corn and soy-beans together, two acres of soy-beans and one acre of cow-peas In this way they are using soy-beans and cow-peas to substitute for one regular legume sweet clover Wheat will be sown this fall and another year will see the above rotation in operation on this field. Farmers are invited in to inspect it.

ANOTHER PROJECT.

The agriculture department of the high school has another project in operation just west of the South Side grade school. On this plot of ground a variety test of soy-beans is being grown.

Soy beans are one of the most valuable annual legumes, However there are many different varieties of soys, some that are more valuable to the dairy farmer than others They are growing four of the common varieties for this part of the State. The varieties are Ebony, Virginia, Sables and Wilson Five These beans are growing very good and already some marked differences are noticed. We wish that you would watch this project and observe the habits of each variety. Farmers especially should watch it

HOPPERS NO MENACE THIS SEASON—FLINT

Apparently there is very little danger of a severe grasshopper outbreak in any part of Illinois during the coming season, according to W. P. Flint, state entomologist at the University of Illinois.

So far, young grasshoppers have not been reported in numbers from any section of the state, according to Mr Flint. There probably will be a few localities where some damage will occur, he said.

"If the hoppers are present in numbers sufficient to cause serious damage, that is five or more a square foot, prompt measures should be taken to poison them," he declared. "They will be found at present along the margins of fields, and along fence rows and hedges.

"Full directions for combatting grasshoppers are given in Natural History Survey Circular No. 3, which will be mailed to anyone on application."

STATE EGG LAYING CONTEST CONCLUDED

[By the Associated Press]

Springfield, Ill., July 22—One hundred and thirteen eggs laid by five White Leghorn hens won the state egg laying contest for Ward L. Hull of Roodhouse during the month of June at Murphysboro, it was announced here today by Chief Poultryman Scott.

SULLIVAN EXHIBITION.

Frank Pifer of Sullivan had five White Wyandottes at Quincy with a record of seventy-nine eggs, and an individual of the same breed with a record of twenty-one eggs.

Mrs. M. R. Walters of Arcola had a pen of five Barred Rocks on exhibit at Murphysboro, with a record of eighty-seven eggs.

NEW CHINCH BUG BROOD DUE AUG. 1

Will Do Most Damage to Corn Crop.

Chinch bugs which have been flying the past week are now setting in the corn. They are laying their eggs and a new brood of chinch bugs will hatch about Aug. 1. This brood of chinch bugs is the one that will do the most damage to the crops.

The work of the brood of chinch bugs which settles in the corn is not so apparent at first They eat the roots of the plant and rob it of its strength The stalks fall over in cases because the roots are eaten away. The corn when matured is light and chaffy and grades low.

Some May Escape.

Some farmers who fought the first brood of chinch bugs will have comparatively few of the second brood in their corn. Many farmers, however, felt that it was not worth their while to fight the bugs, that the result would not warrant the expenditure of time and money.

The chinch bugs in the first stages may be destroyed and checked many times by the use of tar lines ditches, and other methods, but in the adult stage the bugs have wings They fly from the wheat stubble into the corn lands and lay their eggs. It is then impossible to check them.

300 ACRES WHEAT AVERAGE 30 BU.; GETS $1 BUSHEL

Marca, July 22.—Harry Rybolt, who farms between Marca and Kenney, had a yield of thirty bushels of wheat per acre for his 300 acres this year. He sold his wheat at $1 a bushel. He plans to plant 400 acres this fall.

SCENE MERE TODAY.

What horrible and mysterious power was forcing the three Drake brothers,
HOBART, Wall Street broker,
ROGER, eminent scientist, and
ANDREW, recently returned from Australia, to place themselves in ridiculous situations? Some power had forced Hobart to deliver a mock address in the public square, Roger to burlesque a scientific address and Andrew to sit on the parlor floor and play with toys. The three appear terror-stricken and without their knowledge.
PATRICIA DRAKE, daughter of Hobart, secures
OWEN MILES, detective sergeant, and his colleague,
SCOTTIE McCREADY, to investigate. Miles is employed as a houseman and Scottie as gardener. Following a series of mysterious events, Patricia suddenly disappears—an event which Miles cannot understand as he and Patricia were in each other's confidence. Possibly the attempt of her spinster aunt,
Miss JERUSHA DRAKE, to break up a love affair with
RICHARD KEMP, has been the cause. Miles is suddenly summoned by Hobart Drake.

GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"William, I want you to take this letter to the home of Mr. Martin Kemp and deliver it to his son, Mr. Richard, personally. Be sure that you give it to no one else. If he asks you any questions tell him merely I said it was a matter of the utmost importance, but do not mention the fact that Miss Patricia has—gone away. I think that I can trust you."

"Yes, sir."

A trim-looking parlormaid opened the door of the Kemp bungalow in answer to his summons but shook her head when he asked for Mr. Richard.

"He's gone out motoring with the family and they won't be home until late this afternoon. They didn't say where they were going."

"Maybe you could leave the message with me and I'll give it to Mr. Richard?"

"No. I have orders to deliver it myself. I ought to have brought it to Mr. Richard last night."

"He wasn't here. He had to take his mother to a theater party in the city, for Mr. Kemp wouldn't go himself. They never got back till half-past one. Who shall I tell Mr. Richard it was that sent you here?"

"Just say William had a message for him and he'll know," Miles smiled meaningly.

Miles returned with all haste to the Drake house and placed the letter again in Hobart's hands.

"Young Mr. Kemp took his mother to a theater-party in town last evening, too, sir," he added. "They didn't get home till after one o'clock I thought I had better tell you everything the maid said."

"Young Kemp was at the theater, you say?—Don't go, I want to think for a minute." Hobart turned and began slowly to pace the floor and it seemed to the detective that the assurance of Dick's alibi had fallen upon him like a blow. Then he sat down and wrote rapidly.

"I want you to go to this address and present this note to Mr. John Wells" said Hobart

"Yes, sir," Miles replied, glancing at the envelope. It bore an address on West End avenue. "Will there be any answer?"

"I will leave that to Mr Wells Be sure that you see him personally."

Wells was seated in his study and there seemed to be an added grimness about his mouth as he greeted the detective.

"I was expecting you"

"Mr. Drake telephoned?"

"No"

"Then you know what has occurred? Do you mean that you have heard from Miss Patricia Drake herself?"

"Exactly" Wells nodded and, taking from the drawer a crumpled twist of paper, he held it out to the detective. "See what you can make of that while I read what Hobart has to say about the matter"

The paper was of poor texture, limp and grimy and as he smoothed it Miles saw that it was lined not only across the page but vertically at each side. It appeared to be a fragment torn from a larger sheet and the few sentences hastily scrawled upon it in soft blue crayon were so blured and smudged as to be almost illegible.

"Dear Mr. Wells.

"Have promised man who brings this that you will give him five dollars and ask no questions. You will harm all of us if you do. I have left home but am safe. Don't look for me, will explain when I can. Tell M. keep at work without fail but no one else must know you have heard from me. This is vital for everyone's sake. Warn M. look out for tattooed arm. Pat."

"What time did you receive it and what did you do when it came, Mr. Wells?'

"What she asked." The attorney shrugged. "About ten o'clock this morning the man presented himself and I went out to the vestibule to give him the money personally and have a look at him. He was a rough-looking character but respectful enough."

"What did he say?" Miles asked "Was his manner fruitive and did he appear in a hurry to be gone?"

'On the contrary. He was brisk and business-like as if he had come upon an every-day errand and he exhibited neither curiosity nor hesitation. 'Did you get the young lady's note, sor' he asked. 'If you're Mr. Wells, she said there would be something coming to me.' I admitted my identity, handed him a five-dollar bill and watched him go off down the street On snap judgment he might have been a porter, mechanic— you know the type. But what do you make of the letter?"

"The letter was not written under compulsion; that is self-evident," replied Miles. "She left the house of her own free will, without taking me into her confidence. Indeed, I have reason to think that she had an appointment with someone who waited outside the gate to aid her in her flight and it could not have been the young man who is in love with her, for his presence elsewhere has been established."

"What can be the meaning of her reference to a tattooed arm?"

"When we have learned that, Mr. Wells," responded Miles, "we will be on our way toward dispelling the nightmare of grotesque horror which hangs over the Drake family. Our young client has stumbled upon the path to the truth"

CHAPTER XI

THE result of a brief conference was that Sergeant Miles should engage a friend, Zorn, a private detective, to work out the disappearance of Patricia. This would enable Miles to remain at Brooklea in his capacity of houseman and, unknown to Hobart, keep in touch with Patricia's disappearance.

"Before Zorn arrives, Mr. Wells," remarked Miles, "I wish you would tell me something about the early history of the family. What was the original sum which each of them inherited? From whence did it come?"

"From a distant cousin of their mother in England He had owned or been interested in a South African diamond mine, if I remember correctly, and died leaving no other heirs. I was not the attorney for the family at the time but later, when Hobart and then Jersuha placed portions of their inheritance in my hands for investment, I learned that they had never seen this cousin but had kept up a desultory sort of correspondence with him since their mother's death and I do not know whether they all shared alike under his will or not."

"WHEN DID THE YOUNG LADY DISAPPEAR."

"But what has all this to do with the test you propose making? What has it to do with Patricia's warning about a tattooed arm?"

Miles was saved the necessity of a reply by the entrance of the servant who announced Mr. David Zorn. The latter proved to be a fair-haired immaculately attired young man with an expression of polite boredom in his sleepy blue eyes.

"Sorry I could not get here before, Sergeant. You mentioned a—er—little proposition over the phone—?"

"To be brief, Mr. Zorn a young lady of eighteen who lives with her father, a maiden aunt and two bachelor uncles in a Long Island suburb has left her home under mysterious circumstances in which, however, we are satisfied no romance is involved. Her father has asked me to engage a private detective to locate her, but we are, at the request of the young lady herself and without his knowledge or that of his sister or brothers, investigating a certain matter which threatens them. The position which Sergeant Miles and I have taken is this: the young lady must be located at the earliest possible moment but not disturbed if she is in safe hands, and we do not want her father informed of her whereabouts, although he must be persuaded upon to take no further step on his own initiative. Do I make myself clear?"

"Perfectly." The drawl was gone from Zorn's voice. "When did the young lady disappear, Mr. Wells, and in what manner?"

The attorney turned to Miles, who quickly recounted the circumstances.

"This letter is self-explanatory," he added. "But can you think of any legitimate occupation which would take an honest city workingman out into the country on short trips at night?"

"The first supposition which occurs to me is that the fellow might be a helper on a moving van," replied Zorn.

"Exactly!" Miles cried triumphantly. "Now study the scrap of paper on which the message is written."

Zorn took up the letter, read it carefully twice and then carried it, together with the magnifying glass, to the nearest window.

"You are right, Sergeant. This paper has been torn from the blank page of a receipt book. The smudges are from carbon paper and the indentations give us a fragmentary clue to the name and address of the last person to whom delivery was made.—Mrs. Ja—Sloc—gcombe Ro—kside. New Jer—' For argument's sake, let us say that 'Mrs Ja—' is Mrs Jason or James Slocum, of something-combe Road, Brookside—if such a place exists—New Jersey. That will give us a starting point.

"Yes. It is my theory that she must had stopped the van on the road and arranged with one of the moving men to bring the note here as soon as they reached the city. We have reason to believe that she has gone to none of her friends, although it is barely possible that she may have taken refuge with a Miss Millicent Armitage, Lane's End, Oyster Bay.

CHAPTER XII.

MILES saw nothing of Scottie until they met in the servant's dining room when the latter muttered:

"Come to my room, lad, when you're free. I've a curious bit of news for you."

HOW THE BISON WERE SAVED

BY PROF. M. J. ELROD

Chair of Biology, University of Montana.

The American bison, or buffalo, which came so nearly to total extinction about 1900, is now saved to the world, even if the majority of the living animals are protected by large fenced ranges. Safe estimate for total number of animals in the world is about 10,000. Of these Canada has 5,080. The United States has 3,393. The few remaining animals are in European parks.

In 1886 the number of animals was reduced to about 300, according to Hornaday. The American bison society, organized to save the noble animal, aroused public sentiment to the danger of losing entirely the famous animal of the great plains, raised a fund of over $10,000 for the purchase of a small herd, secured congressional action for obtaining suitable range, and undoubtedly saved the buffalo.

In a few years, from about 1882 to 1886, the great herds of millions passed from their open home on the plains through the greed of man, a sad lesson in wanton wastefulness. Had each animal thus recklessly destroyed brought no more to the government than a dollar, the amount would have more than equaled the purchase price of Alaska.

The American bison range, containing nearly 20,000 acres, is a few miles from Missoula, Mont., and now contains 430 American bison, including forty spring calves, twenty-five pronghorn antelope, twenty whitetailed deer, forty black-tailed or mule deer, 275 elk or wapiti.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Sis Sparrow is Beautified

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Goodness," said kind Nancy, "Are You Sick?"

Dr. Snuffles and Nancy and Nick were on their way home through Old Orchard when they heard someone crying.

It was Sis Sparrow.

"Goodness," said kind Nancy, "Are you sick?"

"Yes. Sick of being mud-colored," squeaked the little bird-girl. "Why can't I be handsome like Will Woodpecker? He's got a bright red head and wonderful white wings with black on 'em.

"You can see him a mile off. But I! Ugh! When I'm on the road, or on a fence, or in a puddle, you can't see me at all. I'm just plain old ugly brown."

Now I can't tell you all that happened, my dears, but Nancy and Nick and the fairyman doctor began to whisper together, and in a minute they said something to poor Sis who brightened immediately.

The next thing Sis was going home with them to the place by the blueberry patch where Dr. Snuffles lived.

And then—in about ten minutes—out came a lovely looking bird with a head as red as a holly-berry and wings as black and white as this newspaper.

Of course you've guessed it. It was Sis Sparrow.

She flew over to the chestnut-tree in the meadow, and from there over to the fence.

"I'll have to hunt for a handsome place to live in," said Sis to herself. "My won't folks be looking at me now!"

She was right' Hungry Hawk, always on the lookout for a meal, had seen her bright red head and made a swoop.

"Whatever it is, it must be good to eat because it's so pretty," he declared greedily.

Poor Sis! It almost came to being the end of her.

LAD DIES AFTER BEING RESCUED

Clinton Boy Taken from Park Lake.

Clinton, July 22—Little Frederick, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Grimsley, died at the John Warner hospital shortly before midnight Friday night as the result of an accident at Weldon Springs earlier in the evening.

Harrison who is here from Lexington, Ill., was also in the water and as clearly as the girl can recall she was caught about the waist and thinks it was Frederick that caught hold of her. She was drawn under the water and became dazed and sank. Paul Mallon, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mallon, West Jefferson street saw the girl sink and cried for help, his cries attracting the attention of Dean Wilson of West Washington street and Art Phares of West Main street who rushed to the rescue.

They dived under the water and brought out the Adams girl who was quickly revived and it was about five minutes later they realized Frederick Grimsley was not to be seen. The two boys started looking for him at once and Dean Wilson stepped on the child at the bottom of the lake.

Third Tube in Super-Regenerative Set Is Audio-Frequency Amplifier

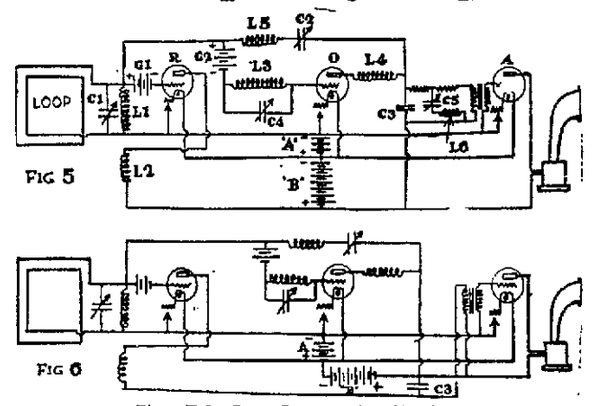

FIG 5

FIG 6

Three-Tube Super-Regenerative Circuits.

BY PAUL F. GODLEY,

America's Foremost Radio Authority

A combination of three tubes may be used in the super-re-generative receiver circuit.

The third tube acts as an audio frequency amplifier and is coupled to the plate circuit of the controller or oscillator tube through an audio frequency transformer.

Where this arrangement is used, the filter circuit becomes essential, for the received signals are very powerful. Any of the high pitched oscillations generated by the circuits of the tube O will be amplified to the point where they may completely mar the voice or music.

It is not easy to construct the filter circuit.

The resistances, R1 and R2, should be non-inductive and have a value of 10,000 to 15,000 ohms each. They may be purchased from a supply store in the form of carbon resistance rods, or they may be one of the several special types of resistance units such as the lavite units used by the Western Electric Company.

Condenser C5 should be variable of a maximum capacity of .005 MF. This is a fairly large variable unit and rather expensive.

The inductance, L5 is an iron core having a value of approximately one henry, and may be ordered from any established manufacturer.

Figure 6 shows a compromise circuit using three tubes. The results with this last circuit will compare very favorably with those of the circuit in the other figure. It is amply suited for use in conjunction with the loud speaker. The advantage gained here is that little, if any, of the audible oscillation of the circuits of the tube O will be apparent.

FOUR TUBES.

With either of these circuits a fourth tube may be added. If this is done, a tube of somewhat larger capacity than the ordinary amplifying tube will be required for the best results. For example, a five-watt transmitter tube such as Radiotron UV202 will serve. This tube will require upward of 150 volts on the plate.

Attention is called to the grid battery in the grid circuits of tubes R, and O. This is a refinement which tends to give stability to the circuits, and to induce distortion of voice and music.

This battery will range from 1.5 to 6 volts, and may be changed 1.5 volts at a time, thus enabling the use of three of four dry cells in series.

NOW DO MY WORKWITHEASE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N.Y.—"I was in bad health but there didn't seem to be any one thing the matter with me. I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and could not sleep nights and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly every one around me knew of your medicine and wanted me to try it, so at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as it would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like."—Mrs. CHAS. BAKER, 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N.Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know because they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?

LIBRARY NAMED FOR MRS. EVANS

Tablet on Front Entrance Contains Name.

S. H. RANCK SPEAKS

Dedicatory Exercises Are Largely Atteded.

The new branch library building, which was formally presented to the city at the dedicatory exercises held at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the building, has been named "The Alice G. Evans Branch library." The library board decided on this name some time ago, but it kept the fact a secret until the exercises Friday.

MRS. EVANS SURPRISED.

Mrs. Evans has been in the public service in Decatur for over forty years, and is head of the Decatur public library. She was surprised to find that the new library was named after her. When called upon by W. F. Hardy, chairman of the library board, Mrs. Evans spoke shortly expressing her appreciation of the honor.

S. F. RANCK SPEAKS.

"A public library is a vital necessity in a community," S. F. Ranck, head of the public library in Grand Rapids, Mich., who made the address of the evening, said. "The public library plays an important part in the social and economic advancement of a community. The suggestions which leads Thomas Edison, Henry Ford, and the Wright brothers on to their great achelvements were received from books they secured from public libraries.

"The dairy farmers of Wisconsin who read books on dairying have better, cattle, equipment and a larger production of milk than those who do not, according to a survey."

T. B. CAMPAIGN.

Mr. Ranck also told how the library of Grand Rapids had waged a campaign against tuberculosis which resulted in the tuberculosis death rate in Grand Rapids becoming the third lowest of any city in the nation.

"The people of America should read the books which are influencing the thoughts and actions of people in foreign countries" said Mr. Ranck. "The interests of the people in all parts of the world are fundamenally the same. By reading books men become aware of the relationship which exists between themselves and their fellows."

Mr. Ranck stressed the fact that reading of newspapers and magazines does not give the deep insight into the problems of life that reading books does.

ROOM FILLED.

The main room of the library was filled, with librarians, members of the library, staff, out of town guests, patrons of the branch library, and people from other parts of town.

PRESENTED TO CITY.

The program was opened with a dedicatory prayer by Rev. E. H. Shuey. Following this Miss Bernice Taylor sang two songs.W. F. Hardy presented the building to the city and Commissioner J. W. Montgomery accepted the building in behalf of the city.

During the program, the tablet over the front entrance, which bears the name of Mrs. Evans was uncovered The new building will be open for inspection from 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon until 9 o'clock Saturday evening.

Life's Lighter Hours

Mrs. Harold Duffy was the honored guest at a pretty party Thursday evening in the home of Dr. Harriet Day Chandler. The wedding of Miss Longenbaugh to Mr. Duffy recently took place The affair was a miscellaneous shower. The guests were class mates of Mrs. Duffy at the Decatur and Macon County hospital. Mrs. Helen Longenbaugh, mother of the bride, was an out-of-town guest.

News From the Sick.

Mrs. W. P. Morris, who was taken to St. Mary's hospital Tuesday suffering with a nervous breakdown, is getting along very nicely.

Nearly 5,000 Shriners There.

Nearly 5,000 Shriners attended the Shrine picnic given at Turkey Run, Ind., Sunday. The Terre Haute Patrol Band was present and gave a most excellent concert, and a quartet from Brazille, added greatly to the day's program.

CASSEROLE OF RICE AND SHRIMPS

BY BERTHA A. STAPLEIGH

Cooking Authority for NEA Service and Columbia University.

1 cup rice
1 can or ½ pound fresh shrimps.
1 small onion (finely chopped).
2 cloves of garlic (finely chopped).
3 tablespoons oil or fat.
1½ teaspoons salt.
1 teaspoon paprika.
2 cups tomatoes.
2 cups water.

Pick over and thoroughly wash the rice. If the shrimps are fresh ones and have not been boiled wash and cook in boiling water 20 minutes. When cool remove shell and separate the fish into two or three pieces.

Fry the onion and garlic in the fat until yellow, then add the rice and fry until slightly brown. Turn into a casserole, add shrimps, seasonings, tomatoes and water. Cover and cook slowly one and one-half hours. Serve from the casserole.

If one does not wish to use a casserole this may be cooked in a double boiler.

One cup of cooked salmon or crab meat may be used in place of the shrimps.

The garlic may be omitted, but it improves the flavor.

HIGH YOKE IN COMEBACK

There may be something new under the sun—provided it is old enough so that no one remembers it.

And it is safe to say that not even the oldest inhabitant will remember this small high yoke.

Here it is again with the stamp of Parisian approval. Combined with straight finely pleated apron panels it emphasizes the new long lines that are growing more and more popular with lengthening skirts.

This is a style very effective in one of the lighter silks and the dress is seen in the warm brown shades and the even newer gray and in navy blue.

If You Are Well Bred

You will not decorate your visiting cards with gilded edges, crests or decorations. Your name and the address, if you desire, are sufficient.

A woman is not privileged to share her husband's titles on her card. "Mrs." or "Miss" are the only titles an American woman may use socially.

IMPORTED FELTS GAIN POPULARITY

Pliable, Light Weight Hats Now in Favor.

New York, July 22.—It is the imported felt hat, so pliable and so light in weight, that can be slammed on hit or miss and always look well. Nothing is more suitable for motoring, for a sprint down to the beach, or for any of the uses to which a sports hat is expected to be put. There is the added advantage of being able to match in one of these little hats almost any costume that contains the season's shades. Or, if one's costumes are too varied to be matched, the felt hat is always good in plain, unrelieved white.

EVENING CLOAKS.

Paris, July 22.—Three tiers of petals is the latest idea in evening cloaks. One garment of this sort was of turquoise chiffon velvet but in spite of its color it was fashioned in the semblance of a rose. Falling well below the knees, the cloak was made up of three tiers of long, wide scallops closely resembling petals. The high, soft collar was nothing more or less than five huge roses of black chiffon.

MARRIED.

HAGEL-HILLJE.

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Lydia Hagel to Harry Hillje of Mitchell, Neb., has been made. The ceremony took place Wednesday, July 19, in Mitchell, Neb.

With a population a third less than that of Decatur Bloomington passed an annual appropriation ordinance of $861,558 Friday, or $125,000 more than that of Decatur, which was the extreme limit to which this city could go.

Bloomington's appropriation for this fiscal year was $101,903 more than for the last fiscal year while that of Decatur was $21,000 less.

SAYS MAN CONTROLS HONEY PRODUCTION

Not Hit or Miss Matter, Declares Bee Expert.

Seventy-five beekeepers from Macon and adjoining counties gathered at the home of I. C. Evans in the 1000 block West Marietta street Friday afternoon to attend the annual field meet of the Macon County Beekeepers Association. There were bee men present from Kenney, Mt. Pulaski, Atwood, Cerro Gordo, Assumption, Moweaqua, Mt. Auburn and other places. The meeting was held on the big lawn of the Evans home and Mr. Evans' hives and apiary were used for demonstration purposes. The meeting was a bit late in getting under way because the speakers got lost but the interval gave the bee men an opportunity to get acquainted. Two most interesting and practical talks were given by two bee experts from widely separated sections of the middle west.

HONEY PRODUCTION.

E. A. Atkins, bee expert for the G. B. Lewis Company of Watertown, Wis., manufacturers of "Bee Ware," was the first speaker and he talked first on the production of honey.

NOT HIT OR MISS MATTER.

Mr. Atkins gave the bee men present more practical, usable information as to the handling of bees than many of them had previously had in their lives. He knows his business and he tells his story so plainly that a child can understand. The production of honey is no longer a hit or miss matter depending upon the seasons, he said, but is largely under the control of the man who is handling the bees. The important point is to have a strong colony of working bees built up and ready to store honey when the honey flow begins.

"If we are not careful we are building up strong colonies from the honey flow instead of building up strong colonies for the honey flow" he said. "Having built up a strong colony from the honey flow we have gained nothing and merely have a large number of consumers after the honey flow is over.

GIVE MORE ROOM.

"Bees are creatures of one idea. If they get the idea of making honey they keep on making honey till the storage space is filled. If they get the idea of swarming they keep on swarming. When they start storing honey keep them at this by furnishing them plenty of room. If they begin swarming stop the swarming by getting rid of the old queen and give them more room."

Mr. Adkins demonstrated how supers should be put on, how hives should be built up and how weak colonies may be strengthened.

MARKET SIDE.

Ernest R. Root of the A. I. Root Company, Medina, Ohio, was the next speaker. The Root people are the oldest bee supply people in the country. They publish the A. B. C. of Bee Culture, a bee encyclopedia, and the young man is editor of Gleanings in Bee Culture. He discussed the market side of bee culture in a practical and interesting way and gave much valuable information to the bee men present.

Following the talks the meeting adjourned to the apiary. Some photographs were taken and there was more visiting among the bee men. The business meeting of the association and the election of officers was postponed till a later date.

MRS. L. D. WOODSIDE DIES IN OREGON

Was Sister of Mrs. C. H. Temple and Mother of Grace Clair.

Word has been received by C. H. Temple of the death of Mrs. Temple's sister and Miss Grace Clair's mother, Mrs. L. D. Woodside, in Wapinitia, Ore. She died Friday night at 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Temple and her niece left Sunday, June 25, to spend the summer with Mrs. Woodside. The latter had purchased a seven pasenger car in which to take her guests around. Mrs. Temple had received word of the illness of her sister and went to her sooner than she had previously expected to.

The funeral will be held in Wapinitia. Mrs. Temple and her niece will return in about ten days.

AUTOISTS TOW EACH OTHER THRO FLOOD

Refused to Pay Farmers $5 a Car.

The party J. H. McCullum, which stopped at the Fairview camp ground Friday night, was delayed in its journey by a flood of the Grand river in Missouri. The party consists of Mr. McCullen, his wife, two children, and his brother. It took them two weeks to travel from Bartleville, Okla., to Decatur.

The highways were under water for seven miles. Farmers were waiting at the beginning of the flooded area with their teams. They offered to pull the tourists through the flood at the rate of $5 a car. The tourists refused to pay this and the automobiles towed each other through. It was slow and tedious work, the travelers report.

OTHER CAMPERS.

Louis Herbst and his wife of St. Louis, Mo., are visiting friends in several Illinois cities. They expressed their approval of the excellent camp ground here.

L. J. Landstrum of Galesburg is taking his vacation by touring through Illinois. He is traveling alone.

Mrs. Emma Kirsop and son Lancelot are returning from Pittsburgh, Penn., to their home in Los Angeles Cal. They were delayed several times in the east by heavy rain storms.

J. A. Murlet and his wife of Tab, Ind., camped at the park Friday night. They will remain in Decatur several days and visit with Frank Weldman and wife, 126 Oakdale.

CONCERT CROWD UNUSUALLY LARGE

Next One to Be Held At The Pines.

That "Decatur has raised its standard of appreciation of music in the last fifteen years" was proven Friday night when the largest audience which ever attended was present at Fairview park for the band concert. Mrs. Robert Walter, wife of the director of the orchestra, has been a regular attendant at the concerts for the last fifteen years and both she and Prof. Walter are well pleased with the progress Decatur has made toward better music. There is as much applause given the classical numbers as the popular numbers. The Overture was given a good hand especially.

The four driveways leading up to the pavilion were filled with cars, sandwiched close together, and the pavilion was filled with an enthusiastic audience.

SPECIAL NUMBERS.

Harry Barber sang "Smilin' Through" with "Georgia" as an encore. J. J. Pickrell gave two cornet solos, "I'll Forget You" and "I Believe in You." Robert Walter, Jr. played the "Serenade" by Schubert as a violin solo.

LEAVE SUNDAY.

The band which is also known as the 130th Infantry band will leave Sunday morning with the Decatur national guards for Camp Grant, where they will remain 15 days. It is stated by the federalized guard that the band is one of the best in the state.

AT THE PINES.

The next concert will be held Aug. 2 at the Pines. The public is interested and wants good music and it will be provided. A donation of ten dollars was made by C. L. Wasson Friday night toward the concert fund. A refreshment stand was erected in the pavilion by the band and the proceeds will be used toward the concert fund.

MASONIC TEMPLE COMMITTEES MEET

Enthused Over Picnic to Be Held Sept. 7.

More than 100 members of the various committees, engaged in the work of preparation of plans for the erection of a Masonic Temple in Decatur, met with Chairman George E. Chamberlain for a dinner at the Staley Club house Friday evening.

GET ANSAR SHRINE BAND.

Intense enthusiasm was manifested by the committeemen in the discussion of the Masonic picnic, to be given Sept. 7 in Fairview Park. It was announced that the patrol band of Ansar shrine in Springfield had been secured for the picnic.

TEMPLE NEWS.

"The Temple News," the fraternal organ which is to be used in the promotion of the building, will make its initial appearance some time before the picnic, circulating among the 3,000 Masons in Decatur.

Every indication points to the completion of the building project. Enthusiasm is running high among the members of the committees and the preliminary work is being put through in convincing fashion. As Chairman Chamberlain expressed it, "Every man is up on his toes, working to see this thing through."

ROLLIN SWARM TO BE RELEASED

Governor Pardons Man Held for Arson.

Rev. L. G. Milby, pastor of the North Side Nazarene church, has received word that the governor has commuted the sentence of Rollin Swarm, who is in the Chester penitentiary, and he will be released at once. The word came in a letter from J. E. Fleming, secretary of the Division of Pardons and Parcles, and stated that Acting Governor Sterling on July 19, 1922, upon the recommendation of the division of pardons and paroles, had commuted the sentence of Rollin Swarm to expire at once.

Rollin Swarm is the man for whose release Mr. Milby has been working for some time and he was extremely glad to get the word of the pardon.

CONVICTED OF ARSON.

Swarm had been convicted and sent to the penitentiary for arson. At the time of the crime he was a Sunday school superintendent. He attended the church of which Mr. Milby was then pastor in Chicago Heights about six years ago and was converted under Mr. Milby's preaching. He made restitution for the crime and after receiving his sentence from the court Mr. Milby began working for his release. He did considerable traveling and had letters of recommendation for the pardon from many prominent people. On April 12, Mr. Milby went before the governor, told the story of the man to the governor said he would act according to the decision of the pardoning board.

Mr. Milby was invited to go to Chester and accompany Swarm home but his church work here will prevent his getting away. Swarm has a wife and three children living in Chicago Heights who have been supported by the Nazarene churches of Chicago Heights and Decatur.

ASK COURT TO RULE ON ALLMAN WILL

Receipts Not Sufficient to Carry Out Provisions.

A bill in chancery was filed in circuit court Friday at Springfield by the Citizens National Bank of Decatur against the estate of James L. Allman, sr., who died February 3, 1922, in which the heirs to the state are made defendants. The bank is executor of the will of Allman and has filed the bill to obtain a ruling of the court on how to carry out the provision in the will which stipulates that Allman's widow shall receive an annual income of $10,000 payable semi-annually, out of the income earned by the estate.

LEAVE NOTHING.

According to the bill, the gross receipts from rents and other incomes this year will amount to approximately $15,000 and rents, interest on mortgages, taxes etc., will almost equalize this amount, leaving nothing for the annual payment to Mrs. Allman.

The estate of Allman includes 2,121 acres of farm land in Platt county, on which several mortgages are held. Allman's property in Springfield also is held under a $6,500 mortgage. In addition, Allman owned property in Monticello, apparently free from mortgage.

The will was admitted to probate March 13 in the Sangamon county probate court.

Debts on the estate, the bill states, have exhausted all personal property and it is necessary to sell real estate which is provided in the will, with the exception of the farm lands. None of the farm lands are to be sold it is provided. The straightening out of the tangled finances is to be left to the circuit court.

The heirs are the widow, Mrs. Anna Allman; three sons, Joseph, James L., Jr., and Edmund, and four daughters, Agnes Knapp, Mary Delaney, Margaret McShane and Anna Munday. Sixteen grandchildren also are named as defendants.

Although Allman lived in Springfield he was actively interested in business in Decatur prior to his death.

PENNSYLVANIA WILL APPEAL DECISION

Declares Agreements With Employers Are in Accord With Wishes Of Majority.

In reference to a decision of the U. S. circuit court of appeals against the Pennsylvania railroad company ordering a new election of representatives of the company's employes Vice President W. W. Atterbury has issued a statement in which it is declared that the company will appeal from this decision to the United States supreme court and that meantime it will stand by all agreements made with its employes, protecting all who remained at work, and insisting that its action was in full accord with the wishes of the majority of the employes.

Mr. Atterbury said that all the employes were in accord with this action except System Federation No. 90, which demanded the right to represent the shop crafts and was upheld by the labor board. It is this action which will be appealed to the supreme court.

Mr. Atterbury says:

"No stronger proof or more practical demonstration of the mutual satisfaction of the present relationship between management and employes on this railroad could be offered than the fact that in the present emergency and under the most trying circumstances 90 per cent of all the employes and 65 per cent of the shop crafts have stood loyally by the public and the Pennsylvania railroad."

TRAVELING ON FOOT THRO' U. S.

George Sachs Taking Pictures En Route.

George Sachs, who is traveling throughout the United States on foot, stopped in Decatur Friday night. He is visiting all points of interest and taking pictures for Underwood and Underwood company of New York City. He does not carry money and works for his meals.

SLEPT AT FAIRVIEW.

Friday evening Sachs earned his supper by washing dishes in a local restaurant and slept on a table in the pavilion at Fairview. Mr. Sachs started his journey last December and has been south as far as Florida, all through the western states and as far north as Nome, Alaska. At present he is on his way to Mammoth Cave, Ky.

TAKEN OUTSIDE CITY.

Mr. Sachs wears an old army uniform and carries a pack weighing thirty-five pounds. He has a small hunting knife attached to his belt. When in Chillicothe, Tex., he was taken for a desperate character. The police took him in a patrol wagon and carried him five miles outside the city limits.

KILLED RATTLESNAKE.

While taking a short cut through a weedy place near there Sachs nearly stepped on a rattle snake which he killed with a club. He had the snake skin cured and is taking it home. The snake had twelve rattles and two buttons.

IN ALASKA.

When the young man reached Seattle, Wash., he wanted to visit Alaska. He helped load a ship's cargo and in return was given transportation to Alaska. He did not stay long in that place, however.

A few days ago Mr. Sachs came to the Grand River in Missouri. There was a stretch of several miles of floodland in which automobiles had to push each other through. Sachs had a swimming suit, and he made some money by helping in the work. He lost so much time there that he boarded a freight train to make up for it. The police in a small town arrested Sachs just as he climbed off the freight. When they heard his story they released him on the condition that he "beat it out of that neck of the woods."

WALKED MOST OF WAY.

On a few occasions the traveler rode with automobilists, but he has walked most of the distance. He has secured the autographs and signatures of many governors, movie stars and other people of prominence. In order to earn his board, Sachs has washed dishes, worked on a ranch, mowed grass, cleaned automobiles, pitched hay and done every other kind of work which has been offered him.

When Sachs returns to New York he will receive pay for the work he has done, but in the meantime he is shifting for himself and finds it to be an enjoyable experience.

BOYS SIGNING UP FOR WOODBINE CAMP

Impatiently Waiting for Opening Day.

All but six of the required thirty boys have signed up for the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Camp at Woodbine park, opening July 31. The remaining number will probably be listed over the week-end. Kelso Schultz and Kenneth Waldron are busy getting everything in shape and will go out to Woodbine Wednesday to put the finishing touches to the camp.

The boys are enthusiastic over the prospect and the majority, in fact all o fthem, are waiting impatiently for July 31 to roll around.

ISADORE NEWMAN WINNER.

Isadore Newman emerged the victor in the boys' tennis tournament by winning two hard fought matches Tuesday. He defeated Eugene Abrams, in straight sets, 6-0, and 6-4 then, with only an hour's rest, won the championship by winning from Handon Friedman, 6-1, 6-4.

Fifty-five boys have graduated from the beginners' swimming class and each day several new members are taken in.

NO DECISION YET ON WOODBINE SALE

Judge McCoy to Go Over Similar Cases First.

No decision will be made until next week by Judge J. H. McCoy on the petition to set aside the sale of Woodbine park. Judge McCoy expects to go over some decisions in similar cases before deciding.

COTTAGERS' ARGUMENTS.

In the closing arguments Friday afternoon the counsel for the cottage owners maintained that the sale should be set aside because of the inadequacy of the bid; because the cottage owners had been given to understand by Eli Ullery that the park would be perpetuated; that no harm would be done to anyone by a resale and that the insolvent estate would be increased and the heirs put in a better position to pay the creditors.

DENIALS MADE.

The counsel for the state Y. M. C. A. denied that the price was inadequate; denied that inadequacy alone, without evidence of fraud, was sufficient to set aside the sale; asserted that the same situation would exist over again if Wilmer Jennings or any other private individual bought the park; showed that the parties now seeking a resale had been informed of the auction, that the price which was brought was more than they wished to bid and that price was also within $1,000 of what the cottage owners were now ready to offer, inasmuch as $1500 of the $17,500 of the check was added as a gift to Mr. Jennings as an assurance of protection to the cottage owners in case the park was resold.

Huts Take Final Game From Commies 9 to 3

Tatum Hurls Great Ball, While His Mates Hit Freeman Hard—Coleman Has Big Day.

BY HOWARD V. MILLARD.

Well, they waited until the last game of the series to turn the trick, but nevertheless the Huts looked like a real ball club in their 9 to 3 win Friday over those battling Commies

After being subdued three straight times the Coleman machine came to the front with a great hitting streak Friday and pounded out a 9 to 3 win.

It was Mr. Freeman, the new hurler from the Coast, who was subjected to the bombardment, for the Huts secured twelve hits, seven of them being for extra bases.

Freeman started out in great shape and for the first four frames had the visitors at his mercy, allowing but two hits. After that he seemed to lose his stuff and the visitors secured nine solid blows in the next four frames for nine counters.

TATUM WORKS WELL.

Bill Tatum, the hitting pitcher of the Terre Haute club, played an important part in the victory, for he pitched a fine article of ball, granting but seven hits, and of those three were scratches.

His bat upset the works in the fifth when he sent a long double over Philpott's head to score the first two Hut runs.

Tatum wasn't alone in the limelight, for Manager Bob Coleman hit the ball at a great clip, getting a triple double and single out of three times up. Hollocher and Riley both hit homers during the get-away day for the Commies.

BRAUSEN GALLOPS ONE.

Pete Brausen gave the Commies a fine start in the local half of the first when he sent out one of Tatum's slants for a home run past Maguire. It was a beautiful hit and put life in the Commie supporters.

Runser went out to Riley, but Bill Cole walked. Strain hit to Campbell and when third was left uncovered Cole started for the far corner. Riley's peg was wild and Cole registered the second run for the locals

Our other counter came in the eighth when, with one down, Brausen got an infield hit to Hollocher. Runser singled to right, sending Pete to third, and he scored on Cole's fly to Drew.

HUTS BEGIN.

Freeman went along with little trouble until the fifth. Coleman singled to center to open that round. Maguire put down a sacrifice but Freeman was advised to play for the big-catcher at second and lost a decision. Bob beating the ball.

Everyone looked for Tatum to sacrifice the runners, but he cracked a double over Philpott's head, scoring Coleman and Maguire. Freeman made a neat play when he took in Campbell's foul bunt. Hollocher flew out to Cole and Tatum went to third after the catch and scored on Drew's single to center.

Coleman and Maguire got doubles in the sixth but Coleman didn't take a chance to score on the latter's blow and both died on the sacks when Sorrells took in Tatum's line drive.

SEW UP GAME.

Campbell opened the seventh with a walk. Hollocher bunted but Lamb took the agate and got Campbell at second by a beautiful peg. Freeman threw out Drew at first and Hollocher went to second. "Rebel" Dunning was hit by a pitched ball. Riley found one to his liking and hit it past Strain to the lumber pile, scoring two ahead of him.

Coleman completed a perfect day at bat for himself by tripling to open the eighth. Brausen threw out Maguire, but Tatum singled to right to score his boss. He was advanced to second when Burnside ruled Freeman balked. Campbell flew out to Brausen Hollocher crashed the agate for a home run, scoring Tatum and himself for the last runs

Even in the ninth the visitors showed a punch. Kotzelnick was pitching in this frame and started by fanning Dunning. Riley doubled to right. Urban flied out to Cole and the latter doubled Riley at third with a swell peg from deep center.

The Commies pulled out of town Friday evening at 8:30 and were due to arrive in Evansville early Saturday morning The Huts remained in Decatur until Saturday morning and were feeling much better after putting over a triumph on the Commies.

It's a pretty tough blow to a ball club to come to a town leading the league and then drop three straight. Maybe Bob can get the old gang going in good shape now since they have four games with the Vets while the Commies have the Evas as a foe

Adolph Holzhauser is due to face the Evansville clan in the first game of the series Saturday, while Applegate will be the choice Sunday. Would sure like to be in that crowd that jams Bosse Field Sunday afternoon.

There is the best of feeling between the members of the Terre Haute and Decatur clubs. Off the ball field they visit around like a couple of brothers, but they sure like to trim each other. It's a good spirit to have and helps the game.

It is thought that the Commies and Huts made a league record for attendance for games played on four ordinary week days. 5,652 paid admissions passed through the gates for games on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. We fail to recall any city in the circuit doing better than that for those in the past.

Bill Cole made a bare-handed stop of Hollocher's drive in the first inning after the ball had started to skid by him. Hollocher was the only Hut to get a hit the first four frames.

Coleman had the dope just right when he ordered Tatum to hit in the fifth. The Huts were two runs behind and had runners on first and second. Freeman figured Tatum would bunt so put a fast one in there. Tatum was all set and doubled over Philpott's head.

Tatum also had a break in the sixth when with Runser on second and one down he snagged Strain's line drive off his shoe tops and doubled Runser off second. Nine time out of ten the ball would have gone through the box for a hit.

Cole showed an arm that will help him get to the big show when he threw out Riley at third in the ninth from deep center. It was a beautiful peg

Frank Sweeney the former St. Viator College star was left in Decatur by Boss O'Leary. Both Philpott and Milan were taken to Evansville but it is expected that Milan will hold down the left feild berth from now on.

The new gardener has a wonderful [illegible] a hitter He should add a lot of punch to the outfield for he has a fine arm and is fast on his feet.

The Commie infield played wonderful ball all through the Friday game Every man on the inner works came through with some flashy play.

Bob Coleman wasn't going to take any chances on those Commies Friday and in the eighth sent out Edwards to warm up with his club seven runs to the good That speaks well for the old comeback spirit of the O'Leary tribe

If we had the room to publish all the boquets that the other papers in the circuit are handing Decatur over the great attendance in the Hut series it would take a page Every scribe in the circuit has mentioned it with the exception of the pair in Danville and they are too busy framing alibis for the vets.

T. Redmon was on the rubber for the winners and allowed but six hits, four of them being equally divided between Schultz and M Augustina.

SOX PAY $50,000 FOR SEATTLE STAR

Seattle, Wash., July 22—Frank G "Stubby" Mack, Seattle's young right handed pitcher, has been sold by the Seattle Pacific Coast league baseball club to the Chicago Americans for cash and players, it became known Friday. The deal was reported to aggregate in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Announcement of the sale was made in a telegram received from James Richardson business manager of the Seattle club, now in Sacramento. Richardson said that the White Sox management wanted Mack to join the Chicago club immediately but that President Boldt would not let the young pitcher go until he was assured of getting the player he wanted.

SISLER CERTAIN COBB IS IN RACE

Browns Star Not Paying Any Attention to Others.

[By the Associated Press]

Chicago, July 22.—Perhaps Tyrus Raymond Cobb is convinced, in his own mind, that he is "slowing up" after seventeen years as a star in the American league, but George Sisler, the marvel player with St. Loupis, whose batting honors Cobb is threatening today, is positive the "Georgia Peach" will be his most dangerous rival for the 1922 batting championship.

The race between Cobb and Sisler today is narrowed down to a difference of only eleven points, with Sisler setting the pace with an average of .416, a drop of four points within a week. Cobb, continuing his batting rampage, smashed out nine hits in his last five games, bringing his average to 405, while the best Sisler could do was four in as many games.

WALKER IN LEAD.

Sisler, however, is showing his worth in base stealing and scoring, having registered seventy-nine times and stolen thirty-four bases—the best base stealing performance in the major leagues.

Clarence "Tillie" Walker, the slugging outfielder with Philadelphia, is having a hard time catching Rogers Hornsby, the National League home run leader. Just when Tillie poles a circuit drive, Hornsby bags one for himself Tillie smashed two out in one game and ran his string up to twenty-three, which gave him a lead of two ahead of Ken Williams of St. Louis. Harry Heilman of Detroit has sixteen poled and Babe Ruth has fifteen.

Other leading batters for fifty-five or more games: Speaker, Cleveland, 365, Schange, New York, .360; Heilmann, Detroit, .356; Meusel, New York, .348; Bassler, Detroit, .347; Ed Miller, Philadelphia, .347; Tobin, St Louis, .342; O'Neill Cleveland, .339.

RECRUIT VS. VETERAN.

A recruit and a veteran are giving National leaguers something to talk about this week. The recruit is Lawrence "Hack" Miller, the Pacific Coast slugger with Chicago and the veteran is Jake Daubert, first baseman with Cincinnati. They have been wielding the hickory with telling effect, each cracking out a dozen hits in their last seven games. Daubert's hitting included two doubles and a home run, while Miller bagged four circuit drives and two doubles

The Cincinnati veteran brought his average from .355 up to .371 and is the runner-up to Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis star, who tops the list with a mark of .397. Miller added ten points to his average and moved up among the select ten, his per centage being .350.

HORNSBY HAS 26.

Hornsby's keen eye and hitting prowess keeps him out in front among the major league home run clouters, with a string of twenty-six for the season.

Max Carey, the speedy outfielder of the Pirates, in addition to showing the way to the base stealers with 24 thefts, is out in front as a run getter having registered 76 times.

Other leading batters for fifty-five or more games: Gowdy, Boston, .370; Hollocher, Chicago, .366, Grimes, Chicago, .363, Snyder, New York, .363; Bigbee, Pittsburgh, 362, J. Johnston, Brooklyn, .357; B. Griffith, Brooklyn, .351; L. Miller, Chicago, .350.

The Braves hit Doak, Barfoot, and North safely 14 times and drew six bases on balls, but had 12 men left on the sacks.

BOXING NEWS

BY FAIR PLAY.

New York, July 22.—Frank Moran—yes, he's in again—and Joe Beckett the English champion, had it all hooked up for a battle in England but now find that no promoter is willing to make an offer for the match So it looks as though Jones will battle for British supremacy.

Soldier Jones, who is the Canadian heavyweight champion, is going big in England. His feat in pounding Albert Lloyd to a whisper and then losing the battle on a foul, interested London fighting fans. Then recently, he knocked out Guardsman Penwill. Jones' next opponent will be George Cook the Australian.

Dr. Leahy of the British army medical corps won the light heavy British army officers championship in 1913. Then in the war he lost a leg. The other night in London, just to show what a man can do with an artificial leg he climbed through the ropes at a benefit performance and [illegible] weight champion of the R. I. C. The surgeon moved around the ring like a lightweight and hit with all his old energy. So much so that the non-com was pretty much a wreck when the four rounds ended.

Guardsman Penwill and Georges Carpentier appeared at the same benefit, which was for wounded soldiers and Carpentier impressed the spectators by his rugged appearance. There is a rumor by the way that the financial outlook in Europe is not so good as Carpentier at first thought it was going to be and there need be no surprise if he turns up in this country early this fall.

NEW GOLF CHAMP TO SEEK MORE HONORS IN EUROPE

Gene Sarazen and the cup he won at the Skokie course near Chicago when he won the American open golf championship.

Gene Sarazen is still dizzy from his sudden ascension from no place in particular to the glorious heights of fame gained through winning the American open golf championship on the Skokie links at Chicago.

Having toted his silver cup to Mt. Vernon, N. Y., to show it to his "pop" and "mom," the 21-year-old ex-caddy is planning an exhibition tour of the United States and two trips to Europe, one this fall to learn the courses and the other next summer to compete in the British open championship.

Letters are being received by him from admirers in all parts of the country. Some of them contain checks from wealthy golf enthusiasts who have read the Italian boy's story in the newspapers.

"This is all too much for me," exclaimed Gene as crowds flocked around him in a hotel in New York where he went after winning the trophy. "I wasn't excited during the play, but the worst hour of my life was after I finished and waited for the rest to complete their games. Then when I won, I began to get excited and I've been in a daze ever since"

New York Fans Expect To See Big Series Next Week

That Is If Giants and Cards Hold Their Relative Positions—Other Major League Gossip.

New York, July 22.—If both the Giants and the St Louis team hold their relative positions until next Tuesday a series is to beign then which may be the turning point of the National league race. Also it may not, because turning points sometimes occur in September when players do not literally toss in the sponge but begin to eat more luncheon. If you see the members of a ball team putting away three courses at noon instead of a sparing sandwich or bowl of soup rest assured they are no longer afraid of a "call down" from the boss.

HAVE TWIN BILL.

The New York team plays a double-header at Pittsburgh Monday. That was tossed in by the Pittsburgh management early. It looked better when it was arranged than it does now. The next day the Giants are due at the Polo Grounds to play a series of four games with St. Louis. If they hold their own then they will continue to play with the cocksuredness which is in evidence when they are at home this year.

If the St. Louis team can come to New York and break the spines of the champions the Cardinals will be nearer their realizing of a pennant than they have been since 1911. If the Cards pull a losing streak as Pittsburgh did last year there will be more criticism and enough savage comment to dull a meat cleaver.

MANY CHANCES.

In the games of Thursday of this week Gerber of the St. Louis Browns and Ward of the Yanks played their star contests of the year. Gerber accepted eleven chances against Philadelphia and Ward thirteen against Detroit.

Infielders are not working with the speed that they did in 1921, except a half dozen. Harris of Washington is almost sure to lead all the infielders of both leagues in the matter of covering ground. No wonder other ball clubs would like to take him away from Griffith.

HORNSBY MUST HURRY.

Rogers Hornsby's chances for a fifty total in home runs have sagged a little. The figures now point to forty-five. If he can pick up a double-header in two afternoons or bat out about four straight in consecutive days, he will again look good enough for fifty. However, he will set a high water mark for the right handers, who were vanquished by Ruth, for the first time in baseball history.

Meusel of the Yankees batted in six runs for his team Friday against Detroit. His mates made seven and the two runs above the fifth were those by which New York won over the Tigers. The champions needed them because St. Louis nearly annihilated Philadelphia. The Browns do hang on to their lead and they must.

TIGERS SLIP DOWN

As badly as New York needed its victory to maintain its sprint in the bitter race going on in the American league, Detroit really needed the game worse than New York because the victory of Cleveland over Washington—the Indians continue to canter—dropped Detroit into the second division. Imagine a team playing as well as Detroit has played and not being able to keep out of the second division.

INDIANS HAVE CHANCE.

Cleveland has won its twelfth game. Go to it some more! The fans will be delighted to see old Stoutheart Tris back again. The Cleveland club is in the first division once more and it was only yesterday that folks had the poor Redskins buried. There are only six and one-half games between Cleveland and the top and if the Indians happen to win some of those double-headers which they have scheduled they are likely to be a "passel" of bad Indians for the next two months

The other St. Louis team picked up a game on the Giants. Cincinnati finally came to and Toney was the New York victim, while Sandfran Couch was the golden-haired youth for Cincinnati. One more victory for St. Louis and one more defeat for New York and the Giants will ooze out of first place like a tooth that is being drawn in the night.

PACERS HAVE DAY IN GRAND CIRCUIT

Three Events Put Over in Fast Time Friday.

[By The Associated Press.]

Kalamazoo, Mich, July 22.—The last day of the Kalamazoo grand circuit meeting was given over to the pacers with three events put over in fast time.

The free for all pace with six starters developed a real race between Jimmie McKerron, Hal Mahone and Sir Roch. The Ohio gelding took the first heat after a hard drive with Hal Mahone close up and the Dean entry in the last spot. The Ray entry repeated in the second but was chased to the wire by Roy Grattan with Sir Roch third and Hal Mahone at the end of the string.

EVERY HEAT A RACE.

Sir Roch stepped out and took the final mile, forcing Ray into second place with Hal Mahone in third. Every heat was a real race between the leaders all the way around. The race was paced in an average time of less than 2:02.

Johnnie Quick and Logan Hedgewood were drawn at the close of the second heat. Roy Grattan ruled favorite at the start.

Hal Bee, the favorite in the 2:11 pace found the field anything but soft and was forced to give way to Henry Direct except in the third heat when the Nebraska mare finished in front.

WINS THREE STRAIGHT.

The Sherwood came home second in the opening heat but after that was unable to stand the speed. Hal Bee made several bids to win on the stretch but Henry Direct was unable to uncork the necessary speed to hold the lead except in the final mile.

The 2:14 pace belonged to Minerva Gentry, the favorite, all the way. The Marvin Childs entry was the class, winning three straight, while Fagan and Minnie Williams were raced out in an effort to head off the Gentry mare. It was the largest Friday that ever witnessed grand circuit racing in Kalamazoo. The attendance for the five days meeting was a record breaker.

Car Shops Win.

Thursday afternoon the Car Shops won a Commercial League game by a score of 11 to 3 from the Brass Works. Molenda worked for the losers and was rapped for nine hits while Barshofski was on the rubber for the winners and allowed but six hits.

FAVORING THE BAND.

If the council was ever justified in stretching a point as far as legality went it was when it voted to permit the Goodman band to hold a series of dances on East William street for the purpose of enabling the band men to be newly equipped with creditable uniforms, to pay the salary of a regular director, to buy the needed music and other incidentals to a service which, after all, is almost altogether a public one.

Technically the council cannot give such a permit to close up the street Perhaps it will raise the question at some future time when some other organization, a fraternity, or something of that kind, asks for the use of the streets for the same purpose.

The council can simply refuse to grant the permission. Precedent, contrary to whatever lawyers may think and do, actually should be simply for advisory purposes. Precedent in the law is too often invoked as a rule when it should be simply studied with relation to the circumstances which established that precedent and the circumstances which surround the thing about to be done.

The Goodman band is an organization which has been a feature of Decatur's activities for a half century It has not been a burden to the tax payer. Its services have often been given freely and no one can be accused of ever having made any money out of its activities.

Aside from the purely selfish element which has been advanced for the favoring of the organization—as a means of maintaining one of the three units of the Illinois National Guard so as to secure an armory for Decatur from the state, the band is entitled to some special privileges.

That these privileges are granted need not make a rule which must be followed. Not at all. The members of the city council can keep themselves free to grant or to refuse.

These dances, given in the open, under the supervision of the thousands who will be within and without the enclosure, will quite likely be devoid of many of the objections to which dances in dance halls are often subject.

It is a worthy cause—the granting of the permission can hurt no one The council did the right thing even if it did, in a sense, exceed any authority which it has to grant this favor.

SUFFRAGE IN EUROPE.

Boston Traveler: Woman suffrage has swept over European countries with amazing rapidity since 1918, and today the nations that do not admit women to vote and hold office on equal terms with men are in the minority. Spain, France, Greece, Jugo-Slavia and Bulgaria have not yet joined the procession. In Italy and Portugal the suffrage proposal has progressed part way toward enactment and been blocked by recalcitrant legislative bodies. Switzerland hangs back awaiting a popular referendum. And Belgium admits women to the ballot and office-holding only in respect to municipal affairs.

With these exceptions, the map of Europe is pretty much covered with countries in which women may vote or occupy places in Parliament on a virtual equality with men While in England a woman must be thirty before she can vote, already two women are sitting the House of Commons. In Sweden women voted for the first time last fall and five women were elected deputies in the national assembly. Denmark has eleven women in the Riksdag, Norway has one in the cabinet, and Finland has had women in Parliament for several years. Germany has thirty women in the Reichstag. In all these nations, and in Austria, Russia, Hungary, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia and Holland, women are nominally on a par with men in political matters.

FRATERNAL SPIRIT BUILDS

Rock Island Argus: The cultivation of a fraternal spirit has much to do with the success of a local community. Where the population is limited the indifference or selfishness of a few individuals exerts a depressing effect upon others, and this attitude of pessimism in time permeates the whole community. Men and women who really desire to advance the interests of themselves and their neighbors find it difficult to work to advantage when disaffected ones are continually throwing a wet blanket over every new project that is proposed. Investigation and discussion are both commendable and desirable, but pessimistic remarks and pulling back in the community harness are on a par with a balky horse. They render more or less futile the efforts of those who would push forward to ultimate achievement. A community of friends working together in harmony is far better than one of opponents pulling in opposite directions.

Arkansas Gazette: Why doesn't some business wizard open a flock of service stations to sell rouge and beauty accessories.

Toledo Blade: In the old days after a man saved his first thousand dollars he prepared to get rich. Now he buys an automobile and remains poor.

Anaconda Standard: The trouble with the average "critical moment" is that it usually lasts several weeks.

HOPE.

There is no hope for the beasts of the field,
They suffer pain and die,
Their young become the hunter's yield,
One bitter, anguished cry
Marks the despair which death has wrought.
Love has been theirs, but all for naught.

But hope God gave to woman and man
Who see their loved ones die,
And ever since first this world began
Though we wonder and question why
Hope whispers low; you shall love again,
And joy shall follow your hours of pain.

Death is death to the beasts of earth,
But man has a soul divine,
And the passing on is a royal birth
To an everlasting line.
And hope shines out through the darkest day—
They still live on who have gone away.

Culberson Sets Record For Steady Attendance

Has Not Missed Senate Session In Last 23 Years—Votes on Every Measure, Speaks on None.

By Mark Sullivan.

Washington, D. C., July 22 — The primary in Texas tomorrow, so far as the United States Senatorship is concerned revolves around the only member of the Senate in the present generation and probably one of very few in the Senate's history, who could insert in his appeal to the people of his state for another term the following sentence: "The sessions of the Congress during my present term covered 1,217 days and I haven't missed a day."

THE SILENT SOLON.

With this goes the fact that Senator Charles A. Culberson has made fewer speeches than any of his fellow Senators; that he has probably actually sat in the Senate chamber for a larger number of hours, actually answered a larger number of roll calls, and actually voted one way or the other on more measures than any other sitting Senator.

Culberson is one Senator on whom it does not take any closure rule to enforce silence. If silence is the supreme virtue of a Senator, Culberson is the first in the body. Culberson votes on every measure and speaks on none.

PHYSICALLY DISABLED.

The reason for Culberson's silence is a physical disability in the nature of what old fashioned persons used to call palsy. This physical disability, which merely prevents Senator Culberson from speaking and does not at all prevent him from otherwise carrying his full weight according to his convictions is being put forward by some of his opponents in Texas as a reason for retiring him into private life. A good many other persons in Texas how-ever make precisely the opposite argument and it has been said occassionally during the campaign that Culberson as a Senator who talks least and votes oftenest has close to a perfect senatorial record.

"HASN'T MISSED ROLL-CALL."

Is a phrase frequently heard among his supporters. Culberson is also helped by the very length of his service. His twenty-three years gives him the longest record of continuous service among the Democrats. Simmons of North Carolina is next with twenty-one years. In this respect Culberson has among Democrats the position that Lodge has among Republicans.

DENOUNCED KU KLUX.

There are four other contestants for Culberson's seat. One of them, ex-congressman Robert L. Henry is putting the burden of his candidacy on his membership in and his outspoken loyalty to the Ku Klux Klan, which is one of the major issues in the contest.

Culberson at the very beginning of his candidacy denounced the Klan in a public leter which said: "I have no affiliation directly or indirectly with this organization and I am unqualifiedly opposed to its operations.

"THREATENS STATE."

"If not curbed it will usurp the functions of state and be destructive of government itself, it will indeed overthrow our Anglo Saxon civilization in its relation to government. Steps should be taken, therefore, at once to arrest its progress and finally to destroy it."

The other candidates for Senator Culberson's seat have put themselves forward on platforms which include charges of mismanagement of the federal reserve system, advocacy of the league of nations, indorsement of prohibition and the Volstead Act by one candidate and denunciation of it by another.

IN RUNNING.

Texas has an unusual system of double primaries. Of the five men in the primary on Saturday the two who get the highest vote will engage on August 26 in a second primary known as the "Run Off." It is generally conceded that Mr. Culberson will be one of the highest two in the primary on Saturday.

Mad Dog! What to Do.

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

Mad dog! Perhaps you will hear that terrible cry once or twice this summer. It is a signal to scurry for shelter.

During the "dog days" of summer, everybody fears a "mad dog" Yet rabies or hydrophobia, which often follows the bite of a "mad" or rabid dog is just as dangerous in winter as during the hot season. For rabies, contrary to popular opinion, is an all-the-year-round disease.

The germ that causes rabies is present in the saliva of a rabid animal and enters the body of another animal or human being through a bite or break in the skin.

Generally the disease develops within from 15 to 90 days in man, though it has been known to develop as early as 10 days and as late as a year or more after the infecting bite.

To guard against the danger of rabies, everyone should know the symptoms

There are nine which may easily be recognized by the layman. They are (1) sudden change in disposition; (2) unusual nervousness or irritability; (3) tendency to leave home; (4) change in voice to a hoarse bark or husky growl; ((5) difficulty in swallowing, particularly fluid food; (6) tendency to snap or bite without provocation; (7) weakness or paralysis of the legs or lower jaw; (8) an increased flow of saliva; (9) the desire to swallow abnormal substances such as wood, stones, etc.

If a dog has bitten anyone, don't hasten to shoot the offending animal, but lock it up in order that a diagnosis may be made. At the first stage of the disease progresses a dog will scarcely touch its favorite food or will refuse to swallow it even after having it in the mouth. Later it will reject all food, but chew objects within its reach and swallow them if possible.

Cauterization of the wound and the Pasteur treatment are measures designed to prevent the development of the disease after being bitten, but should be undertaken only under the supervision of a competent physician.

Ten Years Ago Today In Decatur

JULY 22, 1912.

There was a fight on among the four or five local ice cream factories over the claim that ice cream made in some of the factories did not comply with the law.

Wabash Firemen B. F. Baldwin, J. W. Kendall and W. B. Johnson were promoted to engineers.

J. A. Corbett was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce to succeed C. M. Hurst. Clyde Lyon was named vice president, and J. M. Allen, treasurer.

W. E. Peabody of Decatur was appointed a state dairy inspector with fourteen counties in Central and North Central Illinois to look after.

An old balcony built out over the side walk on the north side of Dr. W. J. Chenoweth's building at the southeast corner of North Main and William streets was being torn down after use as a porch for about twenty-five years.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

The Central Malleable Iron Company was incorporated with a capital stock of $60,000. Incorporators were G. A. Hackett, John P. Utt and T. J. Arnett.

ABOUT TOWN

TWO carloads of Decatur people, comprising one party, were enroute to a neighboring city Sunday, to spend the day in a picnic. The lead was accorded to a certain one of the two cars, and they maintained that order until Mt. Zion was reached. There the lead car pulled to the side of the street to make an inquiry, and the second car whizzed past without even seeing that the other had stopped. The lead car, now in the rear, took up the pursuit, and after several miles of "stepping on it" managed to overhaul the other, and for the first time the occupants of that car were aware of the change in position. Up to that time they had been driving like mad to overhaul the car which was in the rear, and their look of surprise was amusing.

Soon after the relatives positions had been resumed, the lead car whirled into a farm yard to take on some water for the radiator. Again the second section, though it was but a short distance behind and the forward car in plain view from the road, went past without anyone therein detecting the loss of the pilot. A moment later, however, its disappearance was noted, and the occupants of the other car began to speculate as to what had become of it. They decided that it had disappeared in a cloud of dust they saw far ahead, and put on speed. It was a vain effort to overtake it however, for the faster they went lessened the chances of getting together. The "pilot" finally came abreast when within a mile of the destination of the party.

One remarked, when discussing the quick disappearance of the forward car, that he had heard of the "great disappearing act," but never before had heard of an automobile vanishing along with the one who was performing the act.

A FORMER army officer and a friend were walking down the street in the business district the other day. About 150 feet in front of them a man in an army officers' uniform was walking along with his hands in his pockets.

"There goes a militia officer," the ex-service man remarked.

"How can you tell from this distance?" his companion asked. "He might be a regular army officer just as well."

"As far as his uniform is concerned he does look like an army officer," the former officer said, "but if he were one he would not be walking down the street with his hands in his pockets. That is the last thing an army officer would think of doing."

The route laid out by the state highway department is to be along the south side of the Big Four railroad from the Thornton Crossing, one mile east of Shelbyville to Windsor. This moves the route from one to two miles north of what is known as the Big Four Trail.

Strasburg people asked the co-operation of Shelbyville and Windsor in having the route to be paved follow the Big Four Trail. The Chamber of Commerce and the representatives of Windsor and Strasburg agreed that a member of each place go to Springfield and see what could be done to have the present route known as the Big Four Trail laid out for paving. There will be nothing done however that will jeopardize the prospects of having the route paved. Mayor Chew will represent Shelbyville.

Unique Lincoln Statue In Rosemond Cemetery, Pana

Scarcely Noticed Since Erected Nineteen Years Ago

By Capt. John W. Kitchell.

[By the Associated Press]

Pana, July 22.—Out on the Illinois prairie near here, strangely alone in the silence of a country cemetery, stands a little known but very unusual statue of Abraham Lincoln.

The humble burial ground called Rosemond cemetery is not famous for its beautifully sloping hillsides, its long, fair driveways winding among the tombs of the dead, its flowered landscape, nor for its illustrations dead themselves. For it has none of these. It has only its long grass and its few, simple graves.

REMARKABLE STATUE.

But on a knoll in the center of the graveyard stands this remarkable statue. The heroic figure, with one hand flung aloft in ge ure, and the other holding a scroll, perhaps the manuscript of a speech, and the bronze head thrown back—this is the object the village of Rosmond will remember after it has long since forgotten its few dead and when it "little remembers" the man who built the statue.

This figure of Lincoln was erected by the late Captain John W. Kitchell and his wife, philanthropists of Pana. It was put on place Oct. 29, 1903. The sculptor was the late Charles J. Mulligan, who died in 1916, and the cost of the work in 1903 was $10,000.

ONE OF FEW.

This is one of the few statues of Lincoln, it is said, that shows him in the act of oratorical gesture. The sculptor attempted to catch an attitude Lincoln is said to have struck while delivering his Gettysburg address.

The bronze figure stands on a pedestal made of a single granite block. Chisled in the front face of the rock is the last sentence from the Gettysburg address, while on the reverse side is the follow:

"In memory of the Union soldiers and sailors and their commander-in-chief—and noblest friend—Abraham Lincoln."

COST $10,000.

It was his love and respect for Lincoln that prompted Captain Kitchell to spend $10,000 in erecting the monument out here in this country cemetery. At the same time he built a brick pavement from Pana out to the cemetery in order that the statue might be easily visited. It was the first hard road in this part of the state

SCARCELY NOTICED.

As it stands there on a knoll, rising from the corn fields and the pastures, the great figure can be seen for miles around. For 19 years it has stood there, scarcely known and scarcely noticed.

The gesturing hand reaches to the tree tops, and so sharply does the statue contrast with its plain surroundings that it seems more gigantic than do statues of Lincoln surrounded by taller structures.

Suggesting the living figure of the boy Lincoln standing on a stump in the wilderness orating to the trees, this stone and metal figure of the man rises among these trees in the gesture of his immortal address, poised in rural solitude.

On last Saturday afternoon Mrs. Shipp caught a twenty-seven inch, Northern Pike, with rod and line while fishing from a dock. The catch is said to be rather unusual from the fact that the Northern Pike is seldom caught except by trawling. The party does not expect to return to Tuscola until after the end of July.

TRAIN HITS TRUCK.

A large construction truck which was being driven through here on Friday morning was struck by an Illinois Central fast freight train at the crossing of the highway with that line, just at the north west corner of town. The truck bore the name of "H. V. McClelland, Indianapolis"

In crossing the track ahead of the train the truck seems to have almost got clear of the rails as the train struck the rear of it and boosted it off into the ditch. The driver was not hurt and the car did not appear to be seriously damaged.

STEELS HAVE BUSY SESSION

Daugherty's Ruling Is Stimulant to Buying Movement.

BY STUART P. WEST.

Wall Street, New York, July 22.—The stock market had two thoroughly distinct phases today. The approval given by Attorney General Daugherty to the proposed steel mergers, was a stimulus to the buying movement and in consequence trading in Republic, Bethlehem, Lackawanna and Midvale was vigorous for the first part of the session.

ENTIRE LIST TOUCHED.

Bethlehem Steel quickly went up ¾ point, to 79, Lackawanna started with a one-half point gain, which was extended to a rise of more than two points, and Steel common went forward a half point. The entire industrial list felt the stimulus of steel stock purchases and there was fairly lively business in U. S. Rubber, Crucible and Industrial Alcohol, early gains running from half point to larger fractions on the average.

The movement proved to be a rather uncertain quantity however, and when traders began to consider problems entailed in the strikes, buying slackened all around and the first hour's gains were reduced. In the second hour, conditions were much the same as on Thursday and Friday.

RAILS INACTIVE.

Railroad stocks did very little. Strike news was still inconclusive although President Harding's firmer attitude toward the coal situation and his pending conference with Chairman Hooper of the railway labor board held some promise of changes before Monday.

STOCK MARKET IN INACTIVE SESSION

New York, July 22.—Saturday's stock market was dull and featureless, aside from the prominence and strength of independent steels. Those shares registered gross gains of 1 to 2½ points on the statement of Attorney General Daugherty that prospective combinations were not in violation of the federal status. Mexican Petroleum alone showed occasional strength. Selling of the motors was resumed with further heaviness in Studebaker.

The close was irregular.

Bradstreet's Report.

New York, July 22.—Bradstreets Saturday said:

Industry is more irregular, with the railway strike, and through it the coal tieup throwing deeper shadows upon manufacturing interests whose need for fuel is weekly becoming more pressing. The refusal of the coal miners to accept arbitration has been a big disappointment to the country and this feeling has been accentuated by knowledge of the fact that the railway shopmen's strike has been so conducted, by delaying both loaded and empty cars in transit, as to deprive essential industries of badly needed fuel. Coal trade authorities report something like a scramble for fuel, with accompanying feverish price bidding for supplies, which has proved too big a burden for some of the less favorably situated consumers. So far the iron and steel trades have been hardest hit, especially in the neighborhood of the most strongly unionized mines.

Aside from strikes the outlook is generally favorable, especially as western crops have held all of their recent promise.

Weekly bank clearings $7,061,177,000.

BUTTER MARKET

Chicago, July 22.—Further net declines resulted from the congested condition of butter markets during the week ending Saturday with practically only difference from previous weeks being that undergrades shared in the declines to a greater extent says the weekly report of the United States bureau of agricultural economics.

The coal and railroad strikes, which threaten transportation made the condition of markets more than ever unsettled.

CLOSE GUESS ON WHEAT YIELD

Tom Cook Came Within Fifty Pounds of Correct Figure.

Tom Cook, manager of the Ennis farms, near Pierson Station, holds the season's title of champion guesser on the wheat yield. When the rent wheat off the two farms was delivered to the Pierson Grain & Supply Company it was found that Mr. Cook's guess had missed the total number of bushels by only fifty pounds. That is accuracy with a vengeance.

FORTY BUSHELS TO ACRE, FORTY ACRES

Blue Mound Leader—John D. Daniels reports a big yield of wheat this year as he always does. This year he grew 35 bushels per acre on 80 acres. One 40 acre tract of this field averaged 40 bushels per acre. So far this is the largest yield per acre reported when the number of acres are considered

COMMODITY NEWS.

LEATHER.

Boston, July 22.—Shoe manufacturers are filling their leather requirements well ahead for the first time in two years. For months they bought only for immediate requirements.

HARDWARE.

Pittsburgh, July 22.—Lighting fixtures, plumbing supplies and steam fitting material and builders hardware are extremely activ here, sales being encouraged by the building boom.

CLOTHING.

St. Paul, July 22.—Summer clothing sales have been retarded by cool weather throughout this section although there has been a fair response to special bargain cuts in price. Retail trade generally is only fair.

PAPER.

Vancouver, B. C., July 22.—British Columbia paper mills, overwhelmed with orders and new business from Australia, are working twenty-four hours a day with full crews on every shift. They are turning out 250 tons of newsprint a day in the Power river district alone. This product is selling at from $80 to $100 a ton.

COCOABEANS.

New York, July 22—It is estimated the cocoa bean importations into the United States in the year 1922 will be approximately 1,700,000 bags with a value of approximately $30,000,000.

FRUIT.

Ft. Smith, Ark., July 22.—A white lime kiln to supply the Arkansas orchard belt will be erected in Whitner. This plant will save growers the freight on white lime now imported from outside the state.

WHEAT AGAIN DROPS, NOW 95

Oats 26, Corn Remains At 53—No Change in Poultry.

"It looks now as if we were balling up the last half of what started out to be a rather comfortable year," said a grain buyer Saturday as he marked off the price of wheat to ninety-five cents and oats to twenty-six cents a bushel, allowing corn to remain at fifty-three cents, although he said that that was high.

"We should really get out of the market altogether," he continued, "as the car situation is such that we do not know when we can get the grain we buy on its way to the terminal markets."

MUST HAVE CARS.

Country elevators are rapidly reaching the point where they must either have a liberal supply of grain cars or get out of the market.

Hogs still remain at the high point, the offerings being absorbed at all points by the packers.

In poultry and dairy products no changes are made but indications are that the slackening of the demand in the east is weakening the market.

RAILROAD ROLLING STOCK PRICES UP

[By the Associated Press]

Chicago, July 22.—A marked drop from the railroad equipments prices of the last two years caused a sudden jump in the purchase of passenger and freight cars and locomotives during the first half of this year, according to an announcement of the Railway Age today.

In addition in the first three weeks of July orders were placed for 111 locomotives, 9,475 freight cars and 116 passenger cars.

INTERESTING FACTS.

"The most interesting feature of these figures," the Railway Age said, "is that while the car and locomotive buying this year has not been exactly spectacular or record-breaking, it has gone on during a period when there was a car surplus and when there were a large number of bad order cars and unserviceable locomotives. The buying movement has continued during a severe coal strike and seems to have suffered little, if any, retardation from the effects of the shopmen's strike."

BUSINESS NOT STANDING IDLE

Strikes Fail to Dampen Enthusiasm of All Industries.

New York, July 22.—Business is not content to drift, despite the check to progress which has been administered by the coal and rail strikes. It is proceeding cautiously but is under steerage way with steam up in the boilers ready to surge ahead at full speed the moment the present dangers are passed.

That widespread tendency to go ahead gives the most satisfactory indication for speedy settlement of the labor disputes. For it shows the unwillingness of every line of business to relinquish the newly-recognized prosperity which was absent so long.

PUBLIC OPINION.

It is an axiom in industrial disputes that no labor controversy ever is won against the weight of public opinion. The eagerness and ability of business to go ahead is crystalizing public opinion which is deeply concerned with the effect on the public pocketbook.

Whether that opinion backs the strikers or the operators, it will be a weighty enough factor to go far toward a speedy settlement. For it is being realized now that the strikes are costing everybody money.

UNEMPLOYMENT GONE.

Unemployment has practically disappeared but the workers who have jobs do not want to lose them, as many will if the strikes are not settled shortly. Factories and industrial plants cannot run without fuel and many of them cannot run with fuel at famine prices. Neither can they run if they cannot secure transportation of raw materials and finished goods.

MANY HUGE ORDERS.

Orders aggregating scores of millions of dollars are pouring in on merchants and manufacturers and producers, and more orders are only waiting normal conditions to make their appearance. Business men do not want to lose those orders but they cannot fill them if the mines and railroads are not functioning. Retailers cannot sell goods if the buying power of their customers is reduced.

SILENT WEIGHT.

These are urges that are behind public opinion and the talk of the parties to disputes, no matter how full of bluster or defiance it may be on either side, will be ineffective against the silent weight of general disapproval and demand for a settlement.

Business dispatches received in the last twenty-four hours indicate plainly the possibilities for progress and prosperity for the next half year, once the present period of uncertainty is past. The railroads of the country have either started or authorized new construction work involving the expenditure of over $150,000,000 in the next six months.

NEW LOADING DEVICES.

Philadelphia, July 22.—The new motor ship Missourian is now on her maiden voyage to the Pacific coast via the Panama Canal, loaded to the hatches with a big cargo. The vessel, which a part of the Harriman fleet, is equipped with electric devices for loading and discharging cargoes which are said to do away largely with dependence upon stevedoers.

BANKRUPTCY CASES.

Kansas City, July 22.—Bankruptcy cases in Kansas increased more than one hundred per cent in the last year and already more than three hundred per cent greater than the pre-war average. Farmers took the lead by a wide margin in the number of bankruptcies reported.

Financial Notes.

New York, July 22.—It is expected that meetings of the directors of the Bethlehem Steel and Lackawanna Steel companies will be called Tuesday to finally approve merger plans following the declaration of the attorney general that the merger is legal.

Oil imports into Great Britain in the week ending July 17 amounted to 38,000,000 imperial gallons.

The United Cigar Stores company has opened 262 stores since January 1 bringing the total to 2,450. The company is dividing the country into seven zones each of which will have its own organization. This may result in the incorporation of seven subsidiary companies.

Employment in Detroit increased 1,447 this week to a new high for 1922 of 183,037 workers.

The Standard Oil company of New Jersey has advanced kerosene half a cent a gallon in Virginia and West Virginia and has made a cut of one cent a gallon in gasoline at Norfolk. Standard Oil of Louisiana has cut gasoline a second time 1 cent a gallon in Shreveport.

The stock exchange has ruled that trading in common shares of the Santa Cecilia Sugar company shall be ex-rights July 24. The ten year eight per cent bond the company is offering to stockholders of record July 12 is part of the same issue offered a year ago, only $120,000 of which were placed at that time.

WHEAT HAS WEAK CLOSE

Market Becomes Heavy with September Closing At $1.09 3-8.

Chicago, July 22.—Trading in wheat during the early dealings today was light and featureless. There was some small buying power and local traders were inclined to press the selling side. Scattered rains in the northwest section of the grain belt yesterday and predictions of continued good weather for the crop made the outlook more favorable to the bears.

LULL IN GOSSIP.

There was a lull in the talk regarding the railroad strike which is fundamentally a bearish argument, though it was believed something promising would result from the conference between President Harding and the head of the labor board, who was summoned to Washington.

The opening which ranged from unchanged figures to ⅛c lower, September $1.10½ to 1.10¾ and December $1.11⅞ to 1.12 was followed for a slight further decline, and then by something of a rally.

CLOSE WEAK.

The market later became heavy and closed weak, final prices showing a net loss of 1¼ to 1½c, with September 1.09¼ to 1.09⅜ and December 1.10½ to 1.10⅝.

Corn and oats were firmer, but trade was light. After starting unchanged to ⅛@¼c higher, with September 64⅜ to 64½, the corn market underwent a slight general sag all around.

Corn followed the action of wheat, the finish ranging from ¾c to 1⅛@1¼c net lower, with September 63¼ to 63⅜c.

Oats started unchanged to ⅛@¼c up, with September 34⅞ to 35, and held close to the initial range.

Higher quotations for hogs tended to lift provisions.

CATTLE TRADE IS INACTIVE

Supplies Short—Hogs Off Dime—Sheep Also Lose Ground.

Union Stock Yards, Chicago, July 22.—Cattle trade was uneven during the present week. Supplies fell a little short of last week's run, and medium and plain steers closed lower. In the sheep house the market was dull for killing lambs. Much of the western run consisted of feeding lambs, however, but the trade held well. Early in the week best feeders sold right close to killing stock, with tops at $13.00. Receipts Saturday were estimated at 1,500 cattle; 4,000 hogs; 3,000 sheep and 600 calves.

MAJORITY DECLINE.

Cattle: Of the reported fresh supply Saturday about 500 head were received by big killers from other trading points, and the market was of little account. Small lots were picked up at unchanged price levels. Best steers closed 15@25c higher for the week, with the high spot at $10.85. Medium and plainer steers were off 50@75c for the week. Cows and heifers held strong to 25c higher. Bulls dropped 50c during the week with calves showing a similar decline.

TOP AT $11.

Hogs: Light hogs sold strong at the start, but the market was off more than a dime later in the day. The top of the trade was held at $11.00. Heavy butchers strengthened late in the session, and values closed strong to 10c higher. Few rough packing hogs sold below $8.00.

Sheep: Nearly all of the reported supply was received by big killers, and few were on sale. The trade was quoted nominally steady. Lambs closed from 75c to $1.00 lower for the week, while most of the aged stock dropped 75c for the light grades. Heavy ewes were hard to sell and here the market was off as much as $2 in many spots with a week ago.

COTTON.

New York, July 22—Having got below the 22 cent level for October, around which stubborn opposition has been encountered by the bears heretofore, the cotton market has apparently lost all aggressive support and this morning witnessed another selling movement which brought about declines of ten to fifteen points soon after the opening. Wall street, the south and local traders were all among the early sellers and demand was confined chiefly to scattered week-end covering. Part of the early pressure today was based on prospects for cooler weather and possibly showers in the southwest before Monday.

That section had another very hot spell yesterday and at 8 o'clock last night there were temperatures at interior Texas points as high as 100 degrees. Any relief from this hot weather would naturally promote a more bearish sentiment among traders and probably increase selling pressure. The absence of any important buying by trade interests of these new low levels has also been discouraging to bulls, and indicates that the trade, as well as speculative interests, are holding to await the coming bureau reports.

DRY GOODS.

New York, July 22.—The standard print cloth constructions were very steady on the dry goods market today. Traders however, seemed loath to make commitments over the week-end and the volume of trading was not large. Specialties were slightly more active. Sheeting prices were maintained although there was some indication of shading at second hands. Considerable business was done in sateens and some sales were reported in osnabergs and shade cloths at current quotations.

The silk market was firm, reflecting the character of buying this week which is believed to have carried good quantities into the hands of manufacturers who are encouraged by recent large buying of linings by the garment trade.

WOOL.

Boston, July 22.—Dullness and firmness were equally apparent in the wool market today. There was some buying of the better grades, three eighths blood and finer, at current prices. Holders are firm in their stand as they are convinced that delay on the wool tariff will prevent the withdrawal of bonded wools before October or later. Buying throughout the growing districts are reported to be slim with growers holding stubbornly for higher prices than bidders are naming. Little buying was reported for American account at the London sales, the tone of which was firm.

MONTICELLO LIGHT PLANT DISMANTLED

Now Depend on Service from Bement.

Monticello, July 22.—The Electric Light Plant here is being dismantled this week and Monticello will get its electricity from Bement's generating plant.

During the winter the city council passed an Anti-Smoke ordinance and rigidly enforced its provisions.

It compelled the city to install smoke consumers. It also led the ice plant to do likewise.

When the light company was ordered to do away with the smoke they decided the cheapest way to do it was to abandon the plant and run a high tension line to Bement. This it has done. The line was connected up last Sunday.

WHEAT DROPS IN WEEK'S SESSIONS

Chicago, July 22.—Efforts to anticipate the market effects of any settlement of the railroad and coal strikes have done a good deal this week to send wheat prices lower. Compared with a week ago, wheat Saturday morning was down 2¼c to 4⅜c, corn was 2 cents off to ⅛c up, and oats showed a decline of 1⅛@1¼c to 2⅜c. In provisions the week brought net gains varying from 7 cents to 65 cents.

Whenever new moves gave even slight promise of bringing about an end of the big labor strikes, wheat traders were quick to attempt discounting advance the fall in prices that it was generally assumed would result, should either or both the strikes be declared off. The bear side of the market found additional favor, too, because of weather conditions which dispelled almost completely a lingering fear that black rust might endanger the spring crop.

Broadening out of export demand for wheat took place on the decline in prices but failed to check to any great extent downward tendency of values.

Buying for European shipment was said to be largely due to increasing concern aboard about the possibility of supplies being restricted by strike interference. Liberal receipts of wheat at primary centers were noted, however, despite hampered facilities for transportation and rural complaints of a shortage of cars.

Corn and oats were easier with wheat and on account of auspicious field reports.

Provisions reflected higher hog values and better shipping demand.

IMPORTED WORKERS COMING AND GOING

Roundhouse Is Catching Up with Work.

FRIDAY WAS BIG DAY

No Loitering Around Railroad Property.

With about fifty in Friday night and forty-one quitting during the day, the net gain in imported workers at the Wabash in the last twenty-four hours has been about nine. Others were quitting or being discharged Saturday as more men came in.

CATCHING UP.

Superintendent of Motive Power G. F. Hess, who is working on and bossing the day shift at the roundhouse here, said Saturday that while he did not have a full force of mechanics and other craftsmen at work at the roundhouse, the force that he did have was catching up with the work, and in addition to supplying what engines were asked for, succeeded in getting some engines repaired that had been standing 'dead' in the roundhouse awaiting repairs.

FRIDAY BIG DAY.

"Friday was the biggest day we have had yet," said this official, "and we turned out enough 2500's here to help the Decatur division reach the highest mark in business that it has done on any day since the war. This division hanadled 2702 loads and 506 empties. I am shipping twenty men to Moberly this morning and twelve to Springfield and have also sent twenty-four men out to the car shops to work at car repairing."

HOTEL ONE STORY.

Blue print plans for the proposed hotel for strike-breakers at the east end of the locomotive shops yards of the Wabash were submitted to a contractor or two Saturday morning. The plan as it appears on paper is not to be a two-story building as the C. and A. has, but is to be a one story frame structure with space for 300 cots and a dining hall at one end.

NEGROES SENT OFF.

Part of the gang sent out to the car shops Saturday morning to repair cars were Greeks. It had been reported that the Wabash had brought in a bunch of negroes on an early morning train Saturday morning to go to work and that the sheriff's forces had ordered them not to get off here but keep on going. The correct version of this as given by Deputy Sheriff Hunt in the absence of Sheriff Peniwell is that five negroes were found loitering in the yards near the roundhouse during the night. The officers grabbed them and told them to get out of town as fast as they could.

NO ROAMING ROUND.

The matter of allowing the imported workers to roa at large on the street and depot platforms was taken up with the crafts by the civil authorities, the craft leaders saying that the presence of these imported workers was only making it harder for the leaders to keep the striking men in a peaceful frame of mind. Since the complaint, very little is seen of strikebreakers outside the enclosure and three that wandered out into the vicinity of the depot looking for post-cards were sent back into the enclosure by an officer.

A report was being circulated in some circles Saturday that strikers from other towns were now occasionally coming in and taking jobs as strike-breakers. A local official was quoted indirectly as saying that some men had come here from the Indiana Harbor and from one other road.

"We have heard a few reports of that being discovered in some places," said Chairman A. D. Mercer of the roundhouse branch of the shop crafts, "but we have not discovered any such thing happening here yet."

FINGERPRINTS SUGGESTED.

A suggestion had been made that all the imported workers be fingerprinted and the prints sent to Fort Leavenworth, so that if there were any criminals in the bunch, they might be eliminated. Chairman Mercer said he had not had this matter brought before him. He stated that Saturday afternoon, the regular mass meeting of the men will be held, at which time they will be addressed by W. Schoenberg of Washington, D. C., a grand lodge representative of the International Association of Machinists.

PASSENGER TRAVEL LIGHT.

"Lack of travel," said President J. E. Taussig of the Wabash when asked the reason for taking off additional trains, by a St. Louis newspaper. Even with the great number of trains taken off, the business done Saturday by the remaining passenger trains was not much more than their normal business.

For the benefit of the Decatur public, the temporary train schedule now in effect on the Wabash is as follows:

TO ST. LOUIS.

No. 13—Arrive from Chicago, 3:50 a. m.; depart for St. Louis 3:55 a. m.

No. 3—Arrive from East at 4:45 a. m.; depart, 4:50 a. m.

No. 51—Starts from Decatur, 6:40 a. m.

No. 11—Arrive from Chicago, 4:35 p. m.; depart, 4:40 p. m

No. 1—Arrive from east at 6:45 p. m.; depart, 6:50 p. m.

TO CHICAGO.

No. 12—Arrive from St. Louis, 2:15 a. m.; depart for Chicago, 2:20 a. m.

No. 10—Arrive from St. Louis, 3:15 p. m.; depart, 3:20 p. m.

TO DETROIT AND TOLEDO.

No. 4—Arrive from St. Louis, 11:15 a. m; depart for east, 11:20 a. m.

No. 2—Arrived from St. Louis 8:25 p. m. departed 8:30 p. m. to Quincy.

No. 3—Due to leave at 3:30 a. m. but will be held for connection with No. 18 from Chicago.

No. 15—Start from Decatur 2:45 p. m.

RAILROAD NOTES.

D. G. Watson, third trick ticker clerk at the Wabash passenger station, will arrive home Saturday from a two weeks vacation spent in Minot, N. D. and Parsons, Kan.

Word has been received in Springfield of the death of D. C. Webster, former well-known Wabash engineer living in Springfield. His death occurred in Denver, where he and his family had gone about a year ago.

J. F. Wilson, Wabash freight brakeman on the east local, sprained his back while unloading some flour Friday and had to be relieved from his duties.

Brakeman Murray who has been on Nos. 9-28 in Wabash passenger service between Danville and St. Louis, has gone back to freight service due to recent cutting off of trains. He has bumped Lyda from caboose 2219 on the 9th district.

The Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad has been thrown into the hands of a receiver on the request of holders of defaulted mortgage bonds. Joseph H. Young, president of the road was named receiver.

Maintenance of way unions on the Missouri Pacific have demanded an increase of 35 per cent in pay over the wage board award as in effect July 1, and the matter has been referred to the labor board.

LINCOLN PANELS HUNG AT LIBRARY

Were Presented By Miss Jane Hamand.

The Lincoln panels presented to the Lincoln collection at the Decatur public library by Miss Jane Hamand were hung Friday afternoon under the direction of Edward Powers in the upper hall of the library building. They are now on exhibition.

TEN OF THEM.

There are ten of the panels, each representing some scene with which Lincoln was connected. The first panel shows Lincoln splitting rails. This panel is called "The Railsplitter." The second panel shows Lincoln going down the Mississippi river on a raft, and portrays his attitude towards slavery. The name of this picture is "The Boatman."

AS CIRCUIT RIDER

"The third panel portrays Lincoln as a circuit rider and the fourth shows him as a debator. The inaugural ceremony is shown in the fifth panel, and the sixth panel shows the response to his call for volunteers.

The effect of his emancipation program is pictured in the seventh panel. The eighth panel shows Lincoln at Gettysburg Lee's surrender is shown in the ninth panel. The joy of a soldier's family on his return is shown in the last one.

SIMPLE AND IMPRESSIVE.

While the figure of Lincoln himself is not present in some of these panels they show conditions which were brought about as the result of his work. The panels are above all simple and impressive.

They were presented to the library about three weeks ago by Miss Jane Hamand who has presented many other valuable relics to the Lincoln collection here.

DROP PAVING BY PRIVATE CONTRACT

East Eldorado Men Anxious for Improvement.

Business men and property owners in that section of East Eldorado street from Broadway to the Illinois Central started a movement the other day to have that part of the street paved and improved by private contract.

As this requires that every property owner should be in the deal the project was given up when one owner of property there refused to join.

The saving in court costs, the advantage of doing the work for cash, thereby saving the discount figured on paving bonds, and the other advantages of doing the work in this manner was figured by one man who has had experience as being not less than fifteen per cent of the cost as done under the usual method.

SHUT WATER OFF FOR THREE HOURS

To Make Connections at East Decatur and South Main.

City water will be shut off Saturday night in South Water street from East Wood to East Decatur, in East Macon street from South Main to South Franklin and in East Decatur street from South Main to South Water street from 10 o'clock until 1 o'clock Sunday.

This is for the purpose of making some water main connections for the block on East Decatur between South Main and South Water preliminary to the laying of the new pavement in the block.

MRS. ANNA DOWNEY TO MOVE TO WEST

Returns from Visit to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Anna Baker-Downey, 454 South Water street, and daughter, Mrs. Inez Chenoweth, returned Thursday from a visit in Los Angeles and other points throughout the west. Mrs. Downey likes the west very much and intends to move there to make her home. Mrs. Downey met a number of Decatur people while there, among them were Dr. H. C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. George Hoffer, Frank Whitmer, Frank and George Post, Mrs. Hattie Vaughn, Mr. Zimmerman, and Mr. and Mrs. Pritchett, formerly of Niantic.

WEAR OUT HOSPITALITY.

"I see by the papers that a number of the tourists and some of the people living there do not speak very well of the western people,' said Mrs. Baker. "I found the people there very cordial and sociable. The hospitality of the western people has been over worked so long, they have been forced to become distant with eastern people until they find out about their financial backing. A number of people spend the last cent they have to go to California and then expect to be entertained free of charge by the California people.

"One can rent four room bungalow courts all the way from $25 to $75 per month, and the restaurants and hotel prices are about the same as here.

DAY HOT, NIGHT COOL.

"The days are hot, but the evenings are always cool. One always needs a wrap in the evening. I found it so much colder than I expected that I was forced to buy a heavy shawl to wear over my coat. Especially is this true in San Francisco. The men wear heavy overcoats and the women fur coats the year round there.

"It is true that there are pickpockets everywhere. They not only take money but small packages. You can't lay a package of any kind down for a minute."

ON MANY TRIPS.

Mrs. Downey and daughter visited the fruit orchards, ostrich farms, Catalina Islands and took many of the mountain trips near Los Angeles. Her son Fred Baker, is foreman of the Hollywood District Telephone company. This company provides many fine features for its employes, which are greatly appreciated by the men to such an extent that one never hears of any complaints among the employes.

No employe hesitates to answer a call day or night and there is a fine spirit of co-operation among the employers and employes. The company is divided by districts and the same affairs are arranged for each district. Free school for first aid, and acknowledge in regard to telephone work are conducted.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS.

Once a month there is a smoker for the men and at another time a social affair is given for the families, all at the expense of the company. They also support a baseball league among the districts and an outing is given each year to the winning team and their families. Last year they went to San Diego, and this trip cost the company $700. This year they are planning to take them to San Francisco. This is a five hundred mile trip."

Mrs. Downey and Mrs. Chenoweth returned by Salt Lake City, through the Royal Gorge Denver and Colorado Springs. While in Colorado Springs, they visited the Modern Woodman Sanatorium, and met John Ott of Decatur. Mr. Ott is improving rapidly and expects to be discharged Sept. 1.

TAKE 1748 MILE TRIP IN AUTO

Only One Puncture Reported on Journey.

Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Wells and sons, John Kenneth, and Arthur M., returned Thursday from a 1748 mile trip in their Chevrolet. They had one puncture an dthat was coming home when they were near Argenta. They left July 5 and went to Danville and through La Fayette and Logansport, Ind., through Ohio, Erie Pa., Buffalo, N. Y., Niagara Falls, up into Canada stopped at Port Huron Mich., where they saw Oscar Mueller and had a visit with him Then they took a boat trip to Detroit and back and continued in their car to Flint, Mich., Saginac and other points in Michigan, stopped at Gary, Ind., and Chicago Heights and then returned home.

They reported a big fruit crop in Canada this year.

Regular services will be held in Grace Methodist church Sunday since the pastor has returned.

CHARLES BREWER STARTS TAXI LINE

Will Make Trips to Nearby Towns—Parties Accommodated.

Charles Brewer, 1084 East Prairie street, formerly an employe at the Wabash, has opened a jitney and taxi line. He intends to make all nearby towns and take trips to Indianapolis and different points in Illinois. He will drive his own car and in a few days will have a phone and advertisement.

Mr. Brewer made the change of position to benefit his health as he has asthma and thought the outdoors would help him.

He will accommodate picnic parties, camping parties, people going on trips, and dancing parties.

TAKING CHANCES ON MAIL SERVICE

Much Curtailed By Annulment of Trains.

TRUCKERS ARE TO BID

May Haul Mail to Towns on Five Routes.

Mail service into and out of Decatur has been so curtailed that Postmaster Jake Hill issued an announcement Saturday morning to the public that the public will simply have to take chances on mail service.

VERY UNCERTAIN.

"Taking off trains, changing dispatches of mail, and other conditions have made things mighty uncertain in regard to the mail," said the postmaster, "and people should all mail their letters or parcels as early as possible now for an hour's delay by them may now mean twenty-four hours delay to their mail. There are only two dispatches each way a day out of here on the Wabash now and only one each way a day on the other railroads."

ASK FOR BIDS.

Preparing against any possibility of other roads out of Decatur having to take off the one train that they do carry mail on, the local postoffice officials have been authorized to and have asked bids from local trucking companies to haul mail daily to and from towns on five routes out of Decatur.

ROUTES.

These routes are to Mattoon via I. C., to Arcola via Pennsylvania, to Tuscola via C. I. and W., to Monticello via I. C. and to Latham via I. C. The successful bidder on these jobs would only be called upon to handle the mails in case the mail train was taken off on any of those routes. The service would be to and from each town along the road and would call for one round-trip a day. No bids were asked to points along the Wabash yet as no requests had been made from the towns along the line for such protection in case of annulment of all trains.

Special credit for the completion and excellence of the camp belongs to Mrs. Guy Lewis who has worked hard from morning till night to make the camp a success. There has been no one on the spot more incessantly or who has worked harder than Mrs. Lewis.

BOYS AT WORK.

Stuart Wood is another who has been on the job most of the time. With three other of the Fishing club boys, he has made tables for the kitchen and many other conveniences for the girls. One of the things that they have just finished is a refrigerator. This is a wooden box, so arranged that the cool spring water flows through it and keeps the food sweet and cold.

The bakery sale, which was to have been held next Saturday, has been postponed until some time in September. The board thought this the better plan.

RIVER LEVEL IS DROPPING FAST

Down Four Feet Between Two Dams.

LITTLE WATER FLOW

Sewage Will Kill Fish Below Dam.

The level of the river between the two dams has dropped about four feet since Friday noon. In fact it is only directly below the new dam that there is water of any depth at all. Because the level of the lake was fast dropping the "four by four gate" in the new dam was closed.

The volume of water running through the big flood gates is very small. It is not nearly large enough to feed the stream below. The ditch around the old dam drained away the water and now there is only a small stream of water about two feet wide and six inches deep running through the gate of the old dam. In all other places the old dam is high and dry above the water.

LOOK FOR FISH.

Saturday morning two men armed with clubs were standing on each side of the little stream running down to the old dam. Occasionally a fish would force itself through the flood gates and try to swim upstream. It was sure death for a fish to try this.

Men were walking about in the shallow water with clubs looking for fish. The water was clear and the few fish wich ventured into shallow water were caught. People fishing with hook and line had poor luck, however.

SEWERAGE SMELL.

The sewerage smell will annoy the city again unless the river rises in a short time. Saturday noon the sewerage was not being carried away from the old dam because of the small water flow. There are hundreds of fish immediately below the dam and as there is no means for them to escape most of them probably will be killed by the sewerage. The catfish can stand a great deal of polluted water, but bass and carp can not. They will be the first to die off.

The level of the water above the new dam Saturday noon was 600 feet and six inches. The level is the same as the level Friday although the flood gate was closed.

In past summer when a dry spell like the present one came, Decatur was threatened with an immediate water famine. This year, however, there is sufficient water to last for some time, thanks to the new dam.

VAN PRAAG ASKS FOR MORE MONEY

Formally Objects to Appropriation Ordinance.

MUST ACT MONDAY

Last Day to Legally Keep City Going.

Formal notice has been served on the other members of the city council by Alex Van Praag, commissioner of streets, that he is objecting to the proposed annual appropriations ordinance offered at the last meeting of the city council on the ground that city's share of the road and bridges tax and all fines collected for the violation of traffic laws should go to the street department rather than be distributed to the general fund and then shared by all departments of the city administration.

MUST ACT MONDAY.

Since the legal time for completing the budget ordinance expires not later than next Monday, to be within the limit of ninety days since the beginning of the city's fiscal year, the objection made in writing by the commissioner of streets must either be taken up and disposed of Monday or ignored altogether and the ordinance passed.

This controversy has arisen in other years, the commissioner of streets contending that the road and bridges fund should ne used entirely for the improvement of roads, streets and bridges.

CLAIMS $62,000.

This year the estimate is made in the letter of protest which the commissioner sent to other members of the council, that the city's share of the road and bridges fund this year would be approximately $56,000 and that the fines collected for traffic ordinance violations would amount to $6,000 more, a total of $62,000.

In view of the fact that the appropriation ordinance sets over only about $51,000 for the street department this year as against $32,000 last year, it can be readily understood that the possibility of securing the roads and bridges fund and the traffic fines would interest the commissioner of streets.

CALLS IT ILLEGAL.

In the letter, which bears evidence of having been drawn up by one more versed in legal phraseology than the street commissioner. The statement is made that:

"I am advised that the road and bridge tax and the fines received from the violations of the motor vehicle act cannot be appropriated for any other purpose and therefore the appropriation ordinance as the same is now drawn, is illegal.

"If this is true I cannot sanction same."

He insists that the city's share of that tax be appropriated as the law provides.

MUST PASS ORDINANCE.

J. W. Montgomery, commissioner of finance, has notified other members of the council that if an ordinance is not passed which will be legally effective by Aug. 1 the city will shut up shop as far as the expenditure of money goes. The law provides that an ordinance must remain on the table one week after its introduction before it can become a law and that it also must be published.

If the ordinance is not made ready by Monday it cannot become a law before Aug. 1, which is a week from Tuesday.

MUST DO BEST POSSIBLE.

"There is only one way to do" said Commissioner J. F. Mattes, as he read the formal notice and smiled. "We should all make the best of a situation which cannot be helped. There ar many things which I would like to do in my departments but which the lack of funds makes impossible.

"I should like very much to establish a municipal collection of garbage and I think Decatur should certainly have an all time health director. Nine deaths from diphtheria last year, a preventible disease, shows that we need a real health department here."

"MUDDLE THROUGH."

"Yes," said Commissioner Harry Ruthrauff who was working over columns of figures, "there are things I felt that we must do but—if we haven't the money we must muddle through someway—doing the best we can with what we have."

It is not believed that the formal protest of the street commissioner will be heeded nor the funds named set over to his own department.

"Street purposes" said Mr. Mattes, "is a broad term. It certainly should include the lighting of the streets and the streets and the expenses of the county bridge road and the bridge might well be charged to that special fund if we are to split hairs about the use of it."
